- Life is full of experiences. Some are sweet that make you happy while other incidents are sad and you don't want to remember them often.
- There are some moments in life that really scare you when they happen. You are frightened at that time but years later when you think about the event it seems normal.
- Here I am going to narrate an incident when I learnt to drive a four wheeler, a car
- It was 5 years back when I started driving on my own but initially I just had a Learner's licence.
- One fine day my cousin who is older than me visited us and we both decided to go to the market to bring some groceries.
- I was allowed to sit behind the wheel with a co driver. I was happy to show off that how I can negotiate through the thick traffic too.
- I parked my car smoothly in front of the shopping centre near my house.
- The frightening incident occurred only when we returned to the car and stuffed the boot with all the shopping bags. We both sat inside the car but as soon as I released the handbrake the car slid back and hit something.
- I immediately went to the rear of the vehicle to inspect and to my disappointment I saw a barbed wire stuck in the rear of the car.
- There were fine scratches also on the rear of the car
- This made me scared to death as I was certain that my father would be furious at me because he loved the car more than anything.
- I drove the car very carefully on my way back and parked quietly in the garage of my house.

- I went straight to my mother and confided in her. I narrated to her how it happened.
- She gave me the best advice of my life.
- She told me that if I tell the truth then I wouldn't have to remember later what I said. To hide one lie, I would have to make up so many more.
- So the next moment I went to my father and told him what had happened and to my amazement he laughed and said that it is a part of learning process .He further added that he was proud of my honesty.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Is it ok to frighten others?
I don't think it is okay to frighten others because sometimes it might cause harm to others like if we frighten old people, it could have severe consequences like heart attack. Children also might get scared and it will be difficult to make them understand or comfort them.
2. How do people usually get frightened?
It depends on person to person. Some people are frightened when they have done something wrong, and they don't want to be caught. Some people are frightened because they do not want to make mistakes in their lives and they want to be perfect.
3. Do children like to scare others?
Yes children love to scare others. When they are playing 'Hide and Seek' they want to startle their playmates. Children are very innocent they feel that they are very powerful when they scare others. So it is good to encourage them when they scare you, it builds their confidence.
4. Why is it easy to scare some people?
it is easy to scare some people because they lack confidence .Moreover there might be some others who have had bitter experiences in their life ,so they feel scared at every small incident.
5. What should people do when they feel scared?
Well honestly I think you should scream when you feel scared because if there is somebody who is trying to intimidate, if you raise an alarm the nearest person who can help you will run to your aid .But my mother says you should always remember God The Almighty whenever you are scared.

2. Describe a good law in your country

- a. What is the law
 - b. How you came to know about this law
 - c. Whom does it affect
 - d. Why is it good (makkarIELTS)
- Laws are made by the government for the smooth running of the society .
 - Without these laws we would be living in utter chaos and anarchy.
 - There are many laws worth mentioning, such as - ban on smoking in public places, wearing helmet while riding a two wheeler, law against female foeticide and against cutting trees
 - But here I am going to talk about a law on banning the use of plastic carry bags
 - I came to know about this law from TV news.
 - This law affects each and every person on Earth.
 - In 2016, India banned the use of carry bags below 50 microns thickness, but it was could not enforced well, because of lack of alternatives.
 - However, in June 2018, on World Environment Day, the theme was “Beat Plastic Pollution”, and so the government has planned to be strict in the implementation of this law.
 - Actually, this year, India was the global host of the World Environment Day.
 - So, our PM Mr Narendra Modi asked every state and Union Territory to launch a massive campaign against the use of plastics.
 - Plastic in all forms, such as carry bags, drinking straws and plastic bottles have been banned and strict fines are imposed on the violators of this law.
 - Plastic is non-biodegradable and fills up our landfill sites.
 - If burnt, it emits harmful fumes in the air.
 - So, I think this is a good law and we all need to cooperate with the government by abiding by this law.
 - We should make it a habit to carry our tote bags with us when we go shopping and refuse to accept plastic bags.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Do you think this law is acceptable to the people?

Yes, I think this law has been accepted well by the people of India. There is growing awareness about the environmental issues and Indians too are making their efforts to save and preserve the environment.

2. Is there any situation wherein people may disobey the law?

Yes, there are situations when people disobey the law. The main reasons for such laws not being followed by the people are personal profits/benefits and the convenience that they may have to give up.

3. Do people like being a police officer in your country?

Yes, many people in my country like being a police officer. Every year there are several people who take the tests to become a police officer. The competition that exists for such exams is a clear indicator that many people strive to become police officers and serve their country.

4. What qualities should a police officer possess?

A police officer should possess many qualities. He/she should be physically fit and active and should have a passion to serve the people and the Nation. Some other qualities are honesty, eagerness to search for the truth and bring justice to people, some skills like martial arts or other such combat skills to fight the criminals, courage, fearlessness, determination, and many more such qualities.

5. Why some people prefer to be a lawyer?

Some people prefer to be a lawyer because they want to ensure that everyone receives justice and is treated fairly by the law. They may have a desire to fight for others' rights and ensure that everyone gets a fair chance to justify their actions. Some people choose this profession because of the prospects of earning money and fame.

6. Should people be penalised when they use mobile phones while driving?

These days vehicles are well equipped with a system wherein you can connect via bluetooth to your mobile and you can be handsfree and still use your mobile. but if a driver is talking or texting on the phone while driving he should be heavily penalised.

7. Is kindness the most important quality of a police officer?

No, kindness is certainly not the best quality of a Police Officer. A Police officer has to be honest, straightforward and very curious while performing his duty.. Unfortunately we cannot afford to be very kind as the criminals may take advantage of the situation

8. Do you think both men and women can be police officers?

These days we are living in an egalitarian society so gender bias doesn't hold ground in any profession. Every man and every woman is worthy of any profession .So both men and women are equally capable of serving in the police department

9. Do you think the police officers are paid too much?

I think in the Western world police officers are paid well in accordance to their duties but in the developing countries their salaries do not match the work they do, they deserve better salaries. But I do not agree that they are paid too much because they face too many dangers of life and limb while performing their services.

10. Do all Indian people obey the law?

Human psychology is the same everywhere in the world when the citizens know that they are going to be caught, penalized ,put behind the bars ,they will obey the law.A law well implemented is well obeyed. I think Indian people know they can find loopholes to save themselves they do not obey the law .I have come across very honest Indians and very dishonest people from other nations so system that has to get strict .

3. Describe a time when you had some medicine

- a. When it happened
- b. Who gave it you
- c. Why you had it
- d. How you felt about it

- I avoid taking medicine for minor headaches and colds
- But two months back, I had an attack of fever.
- I thought I would recover in a day or two, and so did not take any medicine.
- I felt awful and couldn't sleep well, but still avoided taking medicine.
- Actually my aunt is a doctor and she told me once that fever means that our body is trying to fight the infectious bacteria or viruses.
- So, it is a sign that our body is fighting the disease and if our immune system is effective we will not need medicines.
- However, by the third day, my fever worsened and I had so much shivering that my father had to take me to our family doctor.
- He advised some tests and gave me crocin tablets.
- The test reports were available next day.
- The doctor said that there was some infection because of which my TLC was high.
- TLC is the white blood cell count, which increases during infections.
- He could not pinpoint the infection, but he gave me some mild antibiotic.
- I took the medicine diligently for 5 days.
- I remember I started feeling better in one day, but followed the advice of the doctor and took the medicine for 5 days.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. What do you think of buying medicine online?

I think it is OK to buy medicines online. Most of the sites ask you to upload the prescription when you want to buy the medicine online. Moreover it increases the competition, that is, we find competitive prices and cheaper rates online. On the contrary when you buy the same from the neighbourhood chemist the medicines are mostly very expensive and overpriced.

2. In your opinion, why some people dislike taking medicine?

Some people dislike medicines because they have many side effects. Most of the people of the older generation mostly have a good immunity and they don't want to pop up the pill at every headache for stomach ache. Children often do not want to take the medicines because they do not like the taste.

3. Some people say medicine is harmful. Do you think so?

Too much of medication is harmful but if the pill can save you from pain I believe it's better to have the pill. These days there are various studies about many medicines and their side effects. So medicine should only be taken with doctor's advice and not off the shelf. I don't think any doctor would prescribe medicine before weighing all the pros and cons for the person to whom it is been prescribed.

4. What do you think of fake medicine?

I think fake medicines are the one where the portions are not measured all the chemicals are not right. certainly I have heard about the placebos, which are medicines prescribed the psychological benefit to the patient rather than for any physiological effect.

4. Describe something you made yourself for your friend

- a. What it was
- b. When did you make it
- c. Who you gave it to
- d. How did you and your friend feel about it

- I am not very gifted in arts and crafts and so I normally don't make things myself.
- I prefer to gift people cards and flowers.
- However, a few years back when I was in 9th standard , one of my closest friends decided to immigrate to the US.
- On his last birthday before leaving, I wanted to do something really, special for him.
- But unfortunately, I did not have much saved pocket money.
- So, I went to my mother to get some money to buy him something expensive.
- But, my mother suggested me to personally make him something rather than buying him something, which he may not even care to take with him.
- At that moment, I came up with an idea of drawing a sketch of me and him together.
- It took me a lot of time to come up with something satisfactory since my drawing skills were not so good.
- I remember I spent nearly 4- 5 hours making that sketch.
- My mother helped me a bit too.
- Then I got it framed and gifted it to him on his birthday.
- I still remember his shock when he opened my present since he expected it to be a wall painting because of the shape of the present.
- But after finding out what it was, his eyes swelled up with tears.
- He didn't say anything, we just hugged each other.
- 2 months later, when I was talking to him on facetime, I saw our portrait hanging on the wall in the background.

- At that time, I realised that nothing could ever be as special as a handmade present.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Have you received anything that was handmade by the person who gave it to you?

Yes, I have received handmade cards many times from my students .But I particularly remember a time when I received the handmade bag from my friend . It was finished to the minutest details and it was made as if it was tailored for me. I still carry it with pride wherever I go.It is a very smart shoulder sling bag

2. When receiving a gift, do you prefer something that was self-made, or something bought in stores?

When I receive gift ,it is the intention that matters to me the most not whether it is expensive or inexpensive. When I know I am receiving something from a friend who has made it for me sparing his or her time it certainly feels good but the giver should be as happy to give as I am to receive.That matters to me the most.

3. Which is better, self-made food or food that you buy?

When it comes to food, I always prefer self made food and I enjoy the compliments I receive after after the guests relish the food that I serve. I certainly love to cook at home rather than buying food from the market or opening the packet and eating the food that is stuffed with preservatives and harmful additives.But sometimes when I am busy at work I can buy food from outside but I am very selective about the food being freshly cooked.

4. Are art classes important in schools?

These days children are under lot of stress from their academic workload. Art classes are stress busters. Moreover, art has been known as a fine value from times immemorial.Why would people work if there were no amusement and entertainment activities available.Hence art classes are very important for the holistic development of the children.

5. Talk about something you like to do in your leisure time

- a. What is it?
- b. How often you do it?

- I have many hobbies, which I like to do in my leisure time.
- I love listening to music, watching TV and indulge in some gardening in my kitchen garden
- Here, I would like to talk about my favourite hobby, which is gardening.
- Actually, my mother maintains a kitchen garden in our backyard.
- I have been helping her since my childhood.
- I don't even remember when I developed a passion for this.
- The first thing I do when I get up is water the plants.
- Then I spend few minutes every day picking out the weeds.
- We have grown okra, aubergine, coriander, mint, fenugreek, garlic, radish, green chillies, bottle gourd and bitter gourd.
- We don't use any insecticides and pesticides in our kitchen garden.
- Believe me ma'am/sir these vegetables taste much better than those we buy from the market.
- Sometimes we gift a bottle gourd to our neighbours.
- My mother makes compost at home from kitchen waste.
- We keep throwing the kitchen garbage in a big drum and sprinkle some powder on it which we ordered from Trustbasket company.
- It is meant for making anaerobic compost.
- The drum has to be air-tight because of this powder.
- So, it does not emit any foul smell or gather flies.
- I look forward to spending time in my kitchen garden.
- I even talk to my plants, and sometimes, I feel that my plants listen to me.

- When I am in my kitchen garden, the time flies very fast.
- I forget all my worries and tension and feel refreshed and rejuvenated.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. How do you usually plan your free time?

Writing the events that need to be done for the next week is the most effective way that has worked for me for many years. I always plan the next day before going to bed the previous day ,so I know how much free time I have on the following day .

2. Do young people in your country work longer hours now than in the past?

Yes I think you are people in my country have to work longer hours that people in the past used to work. This is primarily because there is lot of competition in every field now. Internet and all the gadgets have no doubt increased the efficiency but The youngsters need to be accessible to their bosses 24 by 7.

3. What are the advantages and disadvantages of flexible work time?

The major advantage of flexible work time is that one can manage home and work very well but at the same time there is big disadvantage that there is never a routine in the work .This might lead to some disorientation and disconnection while continuing the work from the same point.

6. Talk about a skill that takes long time to learn

- a. What is the skill
- b. Why does it take a long time to learn
- c. Where/How can you learn it
- d. How do you feel about learning this skill

NOTE: This question can be asked in past tense as well (Describe a skill that took you a long time to learn), so please read the question carefully before giving your answer

- Each one has different learning ability.
- Therefore, the time taken to learn a skill is also different for different people.
- What is easy for one person, may be very difficult for the other
- Some people find cooking difficult, whereas others find knitting difficult.
- Here, I would like to talk about a skill, which I believe takes a long time to learn.
- The skill is learning a foreign language.
- I feel learning a language is a lifelong process.
- Punjabi is my mother tongue, but sometimes I come across an idiom or proverb, which is very new for me.
- So, naturally, mastering a foreign language is an arduous task and may take a long time.
- My father tells me that my great grandfather knew 10 languages.
- I wonder, how talented he must have been.
- English is a foreign language for us.
- Even though, I have been learning English from class 1, I still struggle for words at times.
- Pronunciation is another aspect, which makes learning a foreign language difficult.
- There are nuances in every language, which may be very difficult to master
- By nuances, I mean a very slight difference in meaning
- For example, jealousy and envy have only one word in Punjabi.
- But envy has a positive connotation, and jealousy has a negative connotation.
- Then, there are idioms and proverbs in every language, which have different literal meaning, but are meant to convey something else.

- That is why I feel that learning a foreign language is a skill that takes a long time to learn.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. What type of skills may take a long time to learn?

Writing skills like calligraphy take a long time to be learnt. It is a Chinese art that needs practice and meticulous training and observation. As a matter of fact any skill needs training and patience. In most of the skills some dexterity is required so to achieve that proficiency one may require training for a long time.

2. Why would people spend a lot of time learning one skill?

Some people are very passionate about their hobbies and they want to learn it to the levels of perfection. So people spend a lot of time learning that kind of skills that they enjoy doing. On the contrary there are certain skills where children do not have an aptitude for. But they are still useful to be learnt so that it is longer learning that skill.

3. Do people feel happy after they have learned a new skill?

Yes whenever you create something there is a sense of achievement and you feel happy about it. So most of the people do feel happy when they learn a new skill. Simple procedures like cooking, stitching, knitting make provide immense happiness when they tried for the first time.

4. Why are some people unwilling to learn new skills?

Sometimes people are unwilling to learn new skills because they are afraid of failure. Fear of failure should not be a hurdle to create something new. Better to have tried and failed than not tried at all. Sometimes people face a lot of criticism at work or some children face a lot of criticism at school so they fear to try something new.

5. Do you think it takes a long time to learn a language?

Ability to learn a language may vary from person to person. Some individuals learn languages very fast as they are very good at the uptake of new vocabulary, while other people might face difficulty learning new words. To gain superficial knowledge of any language is not difficult but to learn it fluently takes a long time.

7. Talk about the happiest situation in your life

- a. What was the event (What you did)
 - b. Where and when it happened
 - c. With whom you enjoyed
 - d. Explain why it was important/ Why you felt happy
- Happy and sad moments are part of life.
 - I have experienced many happy moments in my life, but here I would like to talk about the happiest situation in my life, so far.
 - I can never forget my 17th birthday, when I received a surprise party and a laptop from my parents.
 - I remember vividly, it was the 16th of July, and I got up feeling very excited and happy that everyone in the home would wish me, but no one did.
 - In fact, they just ignored me.
 - I felt very sad, but got ready and went to the school.
 - Some of my friends wished me, and I was a little happy after that.
 - However, I was still a bit upset and I thought that no one at home loves me.
 - I got back home at 3 pm and to my great surprise, I saw that there were many relatives, and the whole house was decorated with balloons and buntings.
 - I was greeted with hugs and wishes from my parents and other relatives.
 - My parents had planned this party for me.
 - Then I got ready and came out to join the party.
 - I saw a box decorated with ribbons on the table.
 - It was a laptop, for which I had been pestering my parents for long.
 - This was another surprise that during the day.
 - These two events made that day the happiest day of my life.
 - I have used that laptop every day since then.
 - It is a silver grey Dell laptop, with the latest configuration.
 - It has I3 processor, 1TB hard drive, 8 GB memory and Windows 10.
 - It came preinstalled with MS Office, which has been very helpful for me.
 - I have made all my assignments on it.
 - I made a few presentations also.
 - Besides that, I've used that laptop for watching movies and downloading music.
 - So, my 17th birthday was the happiest day of my life.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

- India is a diverse country.
- There are many beautiful cities in India.
- Some are beautiful because of their historical buildings, whereas others are beautiful because of their modern architecture. Some cities are beautiful because they are in the mountain valleys, where as some are beautiful, because of the beautiful and warm smiles of people.
- Here, I would like to talk about Chandigarh, which is also known as 'The City Beautiful'
- It was designed by the French architect Le Corbusier.
- It is the first planned city of India after independence.
- Chandigarh is the cleanest and the happiest city of India according to two different surveys held in 2010 and 2015.
- It is also the first smoke-free city in the country.
- It is a union territory and is also the capital of two states - Punjab and Haryana.
- The Rock Garden in Chandigarh is a masterpiece out of waste material.
- Sukhna lake, is the biggest man-made lake. It is a beautiful place for the people to enjoy with their families.
- The sector 17 market is a shopper's paradise.
- The Rose Garden is Asia's largest garden
- The city has 47 sectors.
- Each sector has residential and commercial zones
- The roads are designed and oriented in such a way that most of the time of the day, they are under shade.
- There are huge parking areas in the commercial zones so that the Parking problems don't create a havoc on the main roads.

- The Parking lanes are as broad as the main roads.
- So, you see, while the city was planned in 1952, it is still the most well planned and beautiful cities of India

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Why do some people like to visit historical places?

People go to historical cities to learn/gain knowledge about the past, the way of life of the people in the past, their culture, their roots, and the architecture.

2. Why do people go to modern city

People visit modern cities for various purposes, some go for work/business reasons, and some for tourism. Those who travel for pleasure to modern cities is to experience a life, where modern technology is incorporated in every aspect of life and to learn and see how people there are using technology in their daily lives. Singapore is a very good example of such a city, where we can not only experience the modern way of life, but also see how they have used modernization to help preserve and enrich the environment.

3. What are the problems caused by maintaining historical city?

The problems that maintenance of a historical city perhaps can cause are related to the funds required for the restoration and upkeep of the city. Another issue could be the pressure on the resources of that city because of tourism.

4. Do you think having too many tourists is a positive thing for historical attractions?

No, I don't think so. I believe that too many tourists will lead to pollution and also will affect the upkeep of historical sites. Such sites need a lot of care and maintenance and limiting the number of visitors to such sites can help maintain them, prevent damage to such sites, and also sustain tourism.

5. What can we do to stop visitors from damaging historical places?

To prevent the damage to historical places by the visitors to such places many measures can be taken. There should be strict punishments, like high fines for the people who try to cause harm. There should be security personnel employed to ensure that no one tries to damage the historical places and along with that there should be security cameras installed to monitor the activities of the tourists. There can be tourist guides appointed, who also can ensure that no one causes any damage.

9. Describe a family business

- a. What is the business
- b. What type of customers
- c. How you know it

- I belong to Phagwara and it is the hub of small scale industry.
- There are many spare part industries run by families.
- My friend Aman's father runs an industry by the name of Akal Industries.
- I can say that it is a successful business because I have seen it grow to great heights in the past few years.
- His father, Jatinder Singh and his uncle, Parminder Singh are partners in this business.
- One brother looks after the sales and the other looks after the manufacturing section.
- Four years ago Aman's cousin, Inderpal joined them and now Aman is planning to join them after completing his course in Business Management.
- This business was started by Aman's grandfather with a handful of workers about 50 years ago but now they have 300 people working for them round the clock .
- They manufacture and supply auto spare parts to various countries like Germany, France, US and Canada.
- They have a very good rapport with their workers and whenever they fulfil big orders, they give bonus to them.
- Aman tells me that his mother and aunt look after the needs of the workers' families from time to time.
- They make them feel part of their family and that is why they have never faced shortage of labour.
- Aman tells me that if any worker is absent or not well, his father takes his place and does not let the work suffer.
- They also give a lot of emphasis on quality and that is why their products are in great demand in Germany and France.
- Although Aman's family is very rich, they are very humble and magnanimous.
- His father keeps donating for charity on special occasions.
- So, this is the successful family business that I know of.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Do you think governments should regulate exports?

Yes, of course. Regulation is very essential. The quality of goods to be exported should be checked, otherwise it may ruin the reputation of the exporting country.

2. Do you think globalization is a positive development ?

Yes, globalization is a positive development. It has not only brought people closer, but also helped them prosper by providing more opportunities to travel, study, and work anywhere. This has also led to greater exposure to other cultures, making people more broadminded and accepting. Also, trade with other countries has become easier.

3. How to be a successful businessman in your country?

The government in India is encouraging self-employment. However, to be a successful businessman/woman, one needs to have good business management skills and also, leadership skills. Hard work, determination, dedication, perseverance, patience are some of the traits that a person should have. Besides these skills and qualities, market demand and consistency in providing good quality products and service can make any business successful.

4. Do people in your country like to work for big companies or small companies?

I think that it is a matter of personal preference, as both the big and the small companies have their benefits and drawbacks. So people choose an organization according to their interests, career aspirations, circumstances, accessibility, and many more such factors.

5. What are the advantages and disadvantages of having relatives in a family business?

Advantages

It keeps the family together. Family members understand each other better. Maximum efficiency is ensured. They are more committed than outsiders. Most family members have good informal internal training. This is because such businesses are usually passed down the family..

Disadvantages

- Misunderstandings at home could also be brought to the office and the family expenses could be deducted from the business.
- Some of the family members might become too comfortable knowing that their own family is working, and as a result there may not be proper planning and budgeting which may result in misunderstandings later on.

- Family businesses also tend to appoint family members even if they lack training or experience. Outsiders might have ideas and skills that can be useful to the family business but their ideas won't be incorporated because they are outsiders.
- There can be conflicts among the family members, which may result in total collapse of the business at times.

6. Are men and women equally good at running a business?

There are no gender differences nowadays. It is a matter of personal aptitude. As more and more girls are opting for management courses, they are successfully entering the world of business. We have many examples, such as Kiran Majumdar, who is the CEO of Biocon company.

7. Is market research important for export business?

Yes, definitely. Market research is important for any business and not just for export business. If China exports those products which are not in demand, then it will be out of business very soon. Even if we talk about small scale business, without adequate market research nothing will sell properly. For example in a poor country, branded showrooms will not survive.

8. Is it important to be competitive and why?

Yes, it is very important to be competitive nowadays. We belong to an era of competition. Today, we are not competing with the person next-door or in the same town or country. We are competing with the people of a global village.

9. In business, do companies need to be competitive?

Yes, definitely. Business is all about competition. If you don't compete how can you run a business? You have to sell your products and for that you have to compete with your rivals. Otherwise they will succeed and you will lose.

10. Should companies promote competition and why?

Yes, surely. Companies should promote competition because if they don't compete how can they run a business? They have to sell their products and for that they have to compete with their rivals. Otherwise they will fail and others will succeed. However, they should promote healthy competition and should not use unethical means to compete.

11. What challenges and difficulties people face when they try to have a successful small business?

They have to do proper market research and see if there is demand of their product or service. They also have to see if they will be getting competition from the international sector. For example, a bicycle manufacturer from India may not be able to compete with the cheaper and better looking bicycles from China. Then there are other formalities like government approvals etc.

12. What should be the government's role in how small businesses are run?

Government should promote small businesses by providing subsidies to budding entrepreneurs. This way unemployment will be reduced. It should do careful and fair evaluation of the business plan of the person and help in all the ways it can. Prime Minister Modi's 'Make in India' Campaign is a step in this direction.

13. What are the advantages and disadvantages of small businesses compared to large companies? (Difference between big companies and small companies?)

There are many differences between big and small companies. To begin with, big companies offer bigger pay packages than small companies. Secondly, these companies give many perks and bonuses from time to time. These companies give benefits like health insurance and travel allowance. Another big advantage of big companies is that it is a status symbol to work in these companies. Furthermore, they provide opportunities to travel overseas. Moreover, in a big company hands on training is provided to all new workers.

On the other hand, in a small company, everybody knows everybody. You are not part of a big crowd as in a big company. If you do some good work, you are applauded for it.

If you open your own small business, you are your own boss. You decide your paycheck. The more you work, the more you earn. The disadvantage is that there is a lot of risk and in case you don't do well, you can suffer a heavy financial loss.

14. How can businesses benefit the community in which they are located?

Businesses can benefit in many ways. They can provide scope for many supporting businesses to flourish. For example, restaurants, hotels, and many more.

15. What are the advantages of exports?

Exporting is one way of increasing your sales potential; it expands the "pie" that you earn money from, otherwise you are stuck trying to make money only out of the local market.

16. What kinds of small businesses are most popular?

All types of small businesses are popular. My home town is the hub of small scale industry, such as motor parts. Jalandhar is famous for sports goods. Ludhiana is known as the Manchester of India because of small scale industry, especially the hosiery industry.

17. Why do some people open their own business?

Some people open their own business because they want to be their own boss. They know they can grow big that way.

18. What qualities does a small business owner need to have?

He should have the competitive spirit. Should have the ability to take risks. He should be hard working and know how to get work from his employees.

19. Are there many big companies in your country?

Yes, there are. India is a fast developing country. There are many Indian companies, which are very big such as Tata, Mahindra, Godrej, Reliance, Videocon, Onida and so on. There are also many multinational giants which have opened branches in India, such as Samsung, LG, Maruti Suzuki, Hyundai and so on.

20. How can a small company grow big?

Small companies can do so in many ways. They can work hard, employ skilled workers, focus on quality and employ good marketing strategies.

21. Should big companies donate more to charities?

Yes, they should. I believe that anyone who has enough should help the needy on humanitarian grounds. Many big companies help the NGOs and NPOs. This is a win-win situation for both. When they get publicity for their charity work, they are getting advertisement for free.

22. Should big companies be punished more seriously if they break the law?

No, they should not. Law should be the same for all – big as well as small companies. Usually, big companies have big connections. So, they try to get away with their wrong doings. This also should not happen. Punishment should be equally serious for all law offenders.

- Internet has become part and parcel of our lives.
 - Not a single day goes without its use by the youngsters of today.
 - I too use the internet for many things.
 - Every now and then I see what my friends and family have posted on Whatsapp or Facebook.
 - Here, I would like to talk about a time when I searched ideas for a handmade gift on the internet.
 - It was my sisters birthday and I wanted to make something for her.
 - Youtube is a wonderful resource for videos of all types of creative projects.
 - I came across this 3D origami project.
 - It looked fabulous.
 - I decided to make it.
 - All it needed was 16 sheets of A4 size paper and a paper cutting knife
 - The instructions in the video were very easy.
 - While i was making it, it did not look so good, but as I went on, the shape became clear and it started looking awesome.
 - When I presented it to my sister, she was stunned, because the swan looked stunning.
 - Everyone complimented me for that artwork. She has kept that swan on her bedside table.
 - So, the internet helped me in creating a masterpiece from ordinary paper.

- In my life, I have never asked anyone for anything but there have been occasions when people have given gifts to me and it made me feel really happy.
- Today I would like to talk about once such occasion when someone gifted me a thing that I was planning to buy on my own
- It was given to me by my brother who is working as an engineer in Canada
- My brother loves me very much and is a kind hearted person
- He gifted me the latest iphone X and I was completely astonished (greatly surprised) when I came to know that he got this phone for me.
- Actually I had been saving for this phone for a lot of months but still i didn't have enough money to buy it
- I also read a lot of reviews about this phone and watched a lot of videos on youtube as well about this phone
- It's an awesome phone with lot of great features like face recognition, wireless charging and dual cameras.
- My brother was visiting us during the last winters and he saw me doing a lot of research about this phone on the internet
- He knew that I wanted this phone badly
- So he went ahead and bought this phone for me without letting me know
- He gave this phone to me as a surprise on Christmas
- When I woke up on Christmas morning the phone was lying inside a sock next to my bed.
- At first I didn't believe if it was real or a dream but then when everyone started congratulating me, I felt elated.
- I thanked my brother a lot and I called him my Santa Claus.

- So this was the moment when I felt extremely joyful on receiving something I really wanted.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. What is the relationship between shopping and economy of your country?
Shopping improves the economy and as economy improves, people do more shopping. So, both things depend on each other.
2. What are the things young people like to buy?
Young people like to buy clothes, shoes, electronic gadgets and many other products.
3. How your friends influence your shopping choice?
Friends suggest me things to buy. My friends are very brand conscious. So, they keep a lookout on the various offers by various branded stores. For example, recently, there was an offer on Levis jeans. Two jeans were free on purchase of one. So, we bought one for Rs 3000/- and got two free. Each one had to pay only 1000/- for the Levis jeans.
4. Is consumption important to a country?
Yes, consumption is very important to a country for its economy to grow/progress. Consumption means customer demand and that leads to mass production, employment and makes any business profitable. However, over consumption can be negative as it leads to a consumerist and materialistic society. It also leads to environmental damage. So, people should draw a line on their consumption of consumer goods and it shouldn't lead to the above mentioned drawbacks or a throw away society.
5. What should parents do when their children ask for things their friends have?
Parents should make the children understand the difference between needs and desires. Parents should also be transparent about the affordability and family budget limitations so that children become more responsible and don't demand things from their parents only because of peer pressure.
6. Why do people buy things that are not necessary?
People sometimes buy things that are unnecessary because of their materialistic nature. It could also be due to peer or societal pressures. Sometimes people may stock things in the hope that it is something that they may need in the future.

12. Talk about an equipment that was broken and you got repaired (or which had a problem)

- a. What the equipment was
- b. What was the problem

- With the rapid growth in the number of technological appliances we use everyday, there are lot of instances when something fails and we have to get it repaired.
- Today, I would like to talk about my Apple laptop, which got damaged recently and I got it repaired from IT market in Delhi
- What happened was that I was working on an assignment late night and I was using the laptop while lying on the bed.
- I didn't realise when I fell asleep and when I got up in the morning I saw my laptop lying on the floor, probably it fell down when I was sleeping.
- I immediately picked it up, only to realise that there was a huge crack in the screen of the laptop.
- I tried to turn it on but it was not working.
- I felt really bad at that time and was scared to tell my family about it.
- So I decided to consult my friend and he told me to visit the nearest Apple store to figure out the damage.
- I reached there immediately and the technician told me that the display had broken and needs to be replaced.
- He told me the cost of screen replacement would be 40,000 Rs
- I was shocked to hear such a huge repair cost as I had already spent a hefty amount on the laptop
- So I came back home disappointed.
- Suddenly, it came to my mind that one of my other friend, who was in Delhi, had also faced the same problem.
- So, I called him and explained the situation to him.

- He told me that I can get it repaired from IT market in Delhi for just 5000 Rs and the technician will replace my screen with a used one.
- After that, I decided to tell my family about it. Initially, they felt sad like me but then they suggested me to be careful about how I handle electronic gadgets in future and gave the money for repair.
- Finally, I went to Delhi and got it repaired. The technician changed the display and luckily the used display looked like a new one and I was able to use my laptop again.
- Nowadays I am very careful about how I use the electronic equipments, I guess, I learnt the lesson, the hard way.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. What are the common home appliances that people use these days?
There are multiple appliances that people use at home today like vacuum cleaner, microwave ovens, washing machine etc. These appliances help in automating a lot of manual work and thus reduce human effort and time, making our life more comfortable.
2. Do you think modern technology makes people lazier?
Yes, I think modern technology is making people lazier because people have become dependant on the machines and technology for every little task. People use cars instead of walking to nearby places, and play video games and watch television instead of doing physical exercise
3. What can people do to protect their equipment from technical problems?
People should protect their equipment from dust and get it serviced regularly to avoid any technical glitches. They should also read the instructions carefully before using the equipment.
4. When an electronic item of yours does not work, would you repair it or buy a new one?
I would try to get it repaired first because repair would probably cost me less money as compared to buying a new one.
5. Are you good at handling problems on your own?
Well it depends on the type of problem but still if it is a small problem, i initially try to solve or handle it on my own but if I don't have expertise in solving that problem, I like to take it to an expert who can solve it for me quickly and efficiently.

- I am a person who loves to travel and explore different places.
- I feel travelling is a great way to rejuvenate and through travelling we can also learn a lot.
- Today, I would like to talk about one of my dream destinations that I would like to visit
- It's a city called Ladakh located in the northernmost part of India.
- Ladakh attracts a lot of tourists especially youngsters from different parts of India and the world.
- Ladakh is renowned for its mountain beauty and culture
- The mountains in this region do not have any trees, rather they are dry mountains
- Due to this reason, Ladakh is sparsely populated
- There are lot of famous places to visit here like Pangong lake, Nubra valley etc
- A lot of popular Indian movies have been filmed in Ladakh.
- The distance between Delhi, capital of India and Ladakh is approximately 1000 kms
- Like many youngsters in India, I want to visit Ladakh on a Royal Enfield Bike
- It normally takes 6-7 days to reach Ladakh on a motorcycle from Delhi
- One has to travel across 4 states in India to reach Ladakh
- I have heard from a lot of people who have done this trip, that it is one of the best experiences of life
- I am planning to go there during the next summers as the roads to Ladakh are open during summers only.
- It will be a camping trip and I would carry all the necessary tent equipment and food supplies with me

- I have also asked a lot of friends who will be accompanying me on this trip
- I think it is always better to travel in a group rather than travelling alone.
- I would also take a lot of pictures during this trip and enjoy the local food in Ladakh
- So Ladakh is one faraway place I am looking forward to visit soon and check it off my bucket list.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Talk about tourist places in your country?

There are several tourist places in my country. Some are visited for their natural beauty, like the hill stations, beaches, forests, etc. Some are popular for their historic, architectural, and cultural importance, like the Taj Mahal, Rajasthan, temples in the South of India, etc. There are many places which are known for their wildlife and natural environment, like the Kaziranga National Park is popular for the Rhinoceros, Corbett National Park and Satpura forests for the Tiger, Gir Forests for lions, Bharatpur for the bird sanctuary, and many more such places are popular tourist destinations.

2. What are the benefits of tourists to region

There are many benefits to the tourist destination. Tourists spend money on their stay/accommodation, travel, food, souvenir and other shopping, which makes the region progress economically and develop better facilities for the tourists, as well as the local people. When the infrastructure is developed for the tourists, it is the local people who benefit from it as they get to use and enjoy those amenities too. The standard of living of the local people becomes better; they are able to earn more because of tourism.

3. What environmental effects are caused by it

Tourism does have its downside and the major impact is seen on the environment. The use of various modes of travel and transport used by the tourists causes all types of pollution. There is a lot of pressure on the natural resources, like water, forests. It is observed that there is more litter at a tourist destination and it may lead to soil or land pollution if that waste is not disposed off properly.

4. Why tourists throw their waste in tourist places

Tourists litter the tourist places as some of them feel that one plastic bag or bottle or a wrapper they throw doesn't make a difference. Also, some tourists feel that it is the government's or the local people's responsibility to keep the city clean. Sometimes there may not be good waste disposal facilities provided by the local government.

5. Do people in your country want longer holidays? Why?

I believe it depends on the work schedule of people. These days people are busy working and earning more money for their family and for leading a comfortable life. However, many people who have children go on longer holidays, especially during the summer vacations, or other such long vacations that their children have during their school years. Mostly the other working professionals prefer taking short breaks, like on long weekends.

6. Why do people like to stay at home?

People like to stay at home when they get some free time so that they can spend some quality time with their family members and also get some relaxation. For them going out or travelling might mean stress and tiredness, so they prefer spending their free time or off days at home with the family.

7. What activities do people do during holidays?

There are many activities people like to do during holidays. Some people stay at home and spend time with their family, or watch TV or movies. Some like to go out on a holiday with their friends or family. Some people utilize that time to pursue their hobbies or learn something new. Some people go out for a movie or shopping and some go out on picnics or short trips.

14. Talk about a recent activity that made you happy (something that happened recently that made you happy)

- a. What happened
 - b. When it happened
 - c. How you felt
- I believe happiness or sadness is just a state of mind. A poor person can find happiness in small things whereas rich people can still be sad even after they have everything.
 - But sometimes in life there are situations when something happens and one feels happy or joyful despite of their background.
 - Today, I would like to talk about one such situation when my happiness had no bounds (or limits).
 - First of all, I love doing social work like public service at the temples or teaching kids from the weaker economic backgrounds (poor kids)
 - This activity of teaching young children brings me eternal(great) happiness as I teach them for free.
 - When these children do well in their studies and score well, I feel really happy that I have contributed something back to the society
 - Recently, a student of mine, his name is Ramesh, and he lives in our neighbourhood, topped the examination.
 - When I came to know about it, it was the happiest moment of life.
 - Ramesh's father does labour work and barely manages to send his children to school.
 - When I first met Ramesh, I found that he was a bright kid but he was not serious about studies
 - So I decided to help him by teaching him after school.
 - I used to spend 2-3 hours with him everyday and he really enjoyed studying with me.
 - Initially, I was worried that he will not be able to clear the examination because of his lack of interest
 - But I never gave hope and I always motivated him to keep working hard.

- I helped him a lot in improving his Math skills by making it more practical and interesting for him.
- Finally when the results came and I came to know that he topped in his class, i was extremely delighted.
- Ramesh had also won a scholarship for next year in the school.
- This made me realise that the happiness we get by helping others can never be compared with any other form of happiness.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. How important is money?

I think money is quite important. It helps meet our daily and basic needs. We can lead a comfortable life if we have money. However, I also feel that it is not the only and the most important thing required to be happy or to lead a fulfilling life.

2. Can money bring happiness?

Yes, to an extent money brings happiness, in the form of reducing our worries and stresses of paying our bills and meeting our basic needs of food, clothing, and shelter. However, when money is given more importance than relations and feelings, it brings more stress, worries, and unhappiness.

3. Why people earn money

People earn money so that they can lead a comfortable life and/or to meet the needs of their family, like providing the best of education or healthcare to their children.

4. Which type of happiness people earn from relationships and money

The happiness earned from having good relations with the family is long lasting and more fulfilling/satisfying/gratifying. Money can bring happiness, when it is not made the top most priority in life. It should only be earned to facilitate a more comfortable and happy life, which only possible when we are on good terms with the people around us.

15. Talk about a foreign language you want to learn (other than english)

- a. What language would you like to learn
 - b. Where will you learn this language
 - c. Why you want to learn this language
 - d. How will you learn this language
- A language I would like to learn apart from English is French
 - There are many reasons for this
 - The first and foremost reason is that I want to visit my uncle and aunt who live in France
 - They told me that if you wish to communicate with Franco phones it is very essential to know some French
 - There, very few people know English
 - My uncle has also offered to sponsor my fees for higher education if I decide to study in France.
 - In that case, if I choose to study there, then learning French would be a necessity
 - Another reason is that my parents are planning to move to Canada
 - So, my knowledge of French would come very handy there
 - It might help me in getting a job
 - French is spoken in 33 countries
 - It is the second most commonly taught language after English
 - Even in my country, if I know a foreign language, then I can get a good job in the tourism industry
 - Everyone knows, tourists from all parts of the world flock to India
 - Those who are multilingual definitely stand a better chance in the job market.
 - Fortunately, a language training Institute by the name of Aroma Language Centre has opened in my hometown
 - They teach French, German and Italian.
 - Their next batch is starting soon.
 - I would enroll in that batch.
 - Two of my friends have started learning French there.
 - They told me that the teacher is very nice.

- They also told me that French is a beautiful language.

16. An important decision you made with help of someone

- a. What was the decision
 - b. Who helped you
 - c. How he helped you
- I think that decision making is an integral part of our life and we are constantly making decisions, either big or small.
 - If we do not make decisions then life will become boring and we will not be able to move forward in life.
 - Today, I would like to talk about an important decision which I made with the help of my sister.
 - I have recently completed my schooling/graduation and it was time for me to decide what I wanted to do in my life.
 - I was confused about what course should I opt for my further studies as I did not want to opt for traditional courses like engineering or medicine.
 - I wanted an option which would provide me a bright future and at the same time should be interesting as well.
 - I searched a lot on the internet about alternative courses and colleges but as there was too much information, i got more confused.
 - So, I decided to consult my elder sister who is living in Canada.
 - She is working in the Media and entertainment industry.
 - When I asked her for advice, she suggested me to pursue a course in Animation as she knew about my interests in this field.
 - She also suggested me some good colleges in Canada for this course and she explained me about the job opportunities that I will get after completing this course.
 - Animation is quite popular these days and in future there will be a huge demand for people who are certified in this field.
 - My family also liked the idea when I told them that I have finally decided to pursue a course in Animation.
 - So, this was one of the most crucial decisions of my life, which I made with my sister's help.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Do you always ask for help when making decisions

Yes, I mostly seek my parents' or siblings' advice when making decisions. I feel that they understand me and are able to give me the best guidance and suggestions.

2. Do you think teenagers are able to take decisions on their own

Today, the teenagers are very well-informed and have a great exposure because of the access to technology. So, most of the teenagers are able to take good decisions when it comes to small, everyday decisions. However, for the bigger decisions like choosing a career path, they still need the experience and the guidance of their elders.

3. Why some can make quick decisions and some cannot?

Some people who can make quick decisions are very clear about what they want and do not waste any time making decisions. They have a clear, straightforward approach to things. However, there are some people who are not very quick at making decisions, as they may be confused and have a lot of external factors which affect their decision making skills. It could be because of a lot of and varied advice from family, friends, and relatives. Some people may feel pressured due to personal circumstances and other societal constraints. So they take a lot of time to decide on what to do or choose.

4. What should national leaders consider when they make decisions?

National leaders consider the public interests when they make decisions. They also consider the future of the nation when making certain decisions.

17. Talk about a time when you received money as a gift

- a. Who gave it to you
 - b. When did they give it you
 - c. Why they gave money
 - d. How did you feel about it
- Money as a gift is extremely popular in my country.
 - In fact, it can be called a tradition as well.
 - People usually gift money to each other during weddings, birthdays etc
 - Today, I would like to talk about one such occasion (out of so many others), when I received money from someone instead of an actual gift item.
 - The occasion was my 18th birthday.
 - And as per Indian laws I became an adult on this day
 - My parents gifted me a motorbike on my birthday as I was now eligible to drive a motor vehicle
 - When my friends came to know about this, all of them wanted a party from me.
 - Unfortunately I did not have much savings at that time, to give a party to my friends.
 - But luckily my grandparents were visiting us during that time.
 - They had come to spend their winters with us.
 - I love my grandparents a lot, they are really humble and polite.
 - They always teach me a lot of good moral values and they love me a lot as well.
 - Since my grandparents are too old, they could not go to the market to buy a gift for me.
 - Moreover they were not sure about what gift they should buy for me, which will make me happy.
 - So they decided it was best to give me money as a gift, so that I can use it for buying anything I like.
 - Initially I refused to accept the money but then my parents said I should not say no to the elders as it would be a disrespect to them.
 - I then thanked my grandparents and they gave me their blessings as well.
 - I also told them that I had everything that I need but my friends were asking for a party so I will use that money for the purpose of celebrating my birthday.

- My grandparents were happy that I was using the money to spend a good time and share happiness with my friends and not spending it alone on myself.
- They wished me good luck for the party.
- I had a great outdoor party with my friends.
- So, this was one of the occasions when I received money as a gift and I used it for celebrating with my friends.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. In your country, do parents give children money for doing housework?

In my country, India, it is not very common for parents to give money to their children for housework. There maybe very few parents who do this and it is mostly considered as the children's responsibility to help with the housework. In terms of money, children get pocket money for their daily/weekly/monthly expenses.

2. Is it important for children to have a right attitude towards money?

Yes, it is very important for children to have the right attitude towards money. Children should learn the importance of money and saving it/not wasting it starting at an early age, so that this habit continues in the future when they start working and earning.

3. What do you think of the saying; love of money is the root of all evil?

I think this saying has a lot of truth in it. Love or obsession for money is not only the root cause of unhappiness, but also brings many other problems in a person's life, like insecurity, not being able to trust others, unhappy family life, selfishness, etc.

4. Is it important to teach children how to manage their pocket money?

Yes, it is very important to teach children to manage their pocket money so that in their adult life they understand the value/importance of money, not waste it and are better at managing their finances in the future.

5. What kind of occasions require people to send money as gifts?

Occasions like birthdays, weddings, congratulating someone on the birth of a baby, and some other such occasions require people to send money as gifts, especially in the Indian culture.

18. Talk about a thing you complained about something (but finally got a good result)

- a. What did you complain about
 - b. Who you complained to
 - c. When it happened
 - d. What was the result and why you were satisfied with the result?
- Well, I am a kind of person who usually does not like to complain a lot.
 - But when something is not done in the right way, I feel it's my duty to get it corrected, because complaining about it will make sure that it does not happen again.
 - Today, I would like to talk about a situation when I complained about a service and eventually got it corrected
 - It happened during last month when I had to get my account statement from the bank, which I needed for applying my visa
 - When I reached the bank in the morning, the officer told me that the bank's printer was broken.
 - He asked me to come back again the next day.
 - When I went to the bank the next day he again told me the same reason.
 - I requested them to get it fixed as it was an urgent requirement for me, but the bank officials did not seem to bother much about it.
 - So I decided to file a complaint with the higher authorities.
 - I came back home, opened the bank's website and sent an email to the bank management at their headquarters
 - I immediately got a call back from them and they said they will take strict action against this complaint.
 - I thanked them and went again to the bank.
 - To my surprise, as soon as I entered the bank, the manager came to me with my account statement.
 - They had got the printer fixed immediately after my complaint.
 - I came to know that a lot of other people were also suffering because of this issue.

- The manager asked me to take my complaint back as senior management issued a notice to him for not listening to the customers, but I refused to do the same.
- I told him it is his responsibility to look after the customers and listen to their problems.
- He then apologised for it and promised me that in future he will take great care about it.
- So this was a time when I complained about something and got a good result.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. When do people usually complain?

People usually complain when they have been inconvenienced or face a discomfort. The other main reason for people complaining is when they have been duped or cheated by someone. There are also many people who may complain without any valid reason, as they may have a complaining attitude.

2. Can complaining help solve problems?

Yes, there are many scenarios when complaining helps solve problems. For instance, when a product/appliance/gadget stops working or malfunctions, complaining to the customer support or service helps solve the problem. There are many situations when people get duped or cheated and if they complain to the authorities, they are very likely to get justice.

3. What other measures you should take to solve problems rather than complain

Sometimes complaining is not the best solution to problems that we face. For instance, the traffic problems in many cities are due to people themselves not following the traffic rules. However, complaining about it doesn't solve it, taking steps and initiatives at the individual level can help resolve such issues.

4. What kind of people complaint

People who are aware of their rights and entitlements complain when they do not receive what they deserve or have been promised. However, there maybe some people who complain without any valid/solid reason. Such people are usually unaware and do not want to take responsibility for their actions.

5. Do you usually get angry?

No, I do not usually get angry. However, there are situations which make me angry, like when I see someone doing or saying something wrong and inappropriate. Sometimes reading or watching the news about crimes, corruption, and terrorist attacks and innocent people losing their lives makes me angry.

6. Do you think customers' complaints will improve product or services?

Yes, definitely. Every company knows that the customer is the king nowadays. If they get a complaint, they listen to it and try to improve. If they improve only then they retain their customers.

7. Is it necessary for companies to set up customer service?

Yes, it is necessary for companies to set up customer service. They have to listen to their customers. Positive feedbacks, as well as negative feedbacks are important for every company.

8. Are there any disadvantages to set up customer service?

Yes, sometimes some rival company may misuse and put up negative things just to spoil the name of the company.

9. Would you buy things in the shops in which you have made complaints before?

If my complaint has been listened to satisfactorily then I would go there again. This means they care for their customers.

10. What product or services do people in your country like to complain about?

People complain about everything that doesn't live up to their expectations. Supposing, someone has paid a heavy amount for some product or service and they don't get back what they expected, they complain.

19. Talk about a place where you like to study (indoors/outdoors) or where it is easy for you to study

- a. Where is it
 - b. When do you study there
 - c. What you study there
 - d. Who you go with
 - e. Why do you like to study in this place
- There are numerous indoor and outdoor places where people likes to go to study
 - But I prefer to study indoors.
 - My Favorite place to study is a library.
 - There is a huge library named as The Central Library which is situated in sector
 - 34, Chandigarh.
 - It is approximately 5 Kms away from my house.
 - The building of the library can easily accommodate more than 1000 students at one time.
 - The whole building is centrally air conditioned.
 - There is ample parking space in front of the building.
 - I visited that library for the first time with my elder sister.
 - After that I became regular visitor.
 - The membership of this library is very reasonable.
 - A person has to pay only Rs.500/- for one year.
 - I usually go there to prepare my assignments.
 - Even in my leisure time I like visiting to this library to read books like novels,
 - journals etcetera.
 - I like to study there because of the ambience of that place.
 - Most of the people who visit this library are college going students who are preparing for competitive exams.
 - In fact, I have made quite a lot of friends at the library.
 - It is a very quiet place and extensive study material is available in this library.
 - Sometimes I get the books issued and take them to my home.

- The library also has a Internet cafe, where one can search for information on the Internet and have some coffee.
- It helps me to concentrate better as the location of this library is peaceful and noise free.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Do you like to learn on your own or with others?

Sometimes, I like to study alone and sometimes in a group. For things that I need to concentrate and focus, I like to study alone. For boring things, I like to study in a group.

2. Do you prefer to study at home or study in other places?

I like to study at home, but sometimes, I go to a library. There I get an atmosphere to study.

3. What's the difference between leaning face to face with teachers and learning by yourself?

Teachers keep me focused on study, but when I study by myself, I tend to lose my concentration and then I waste time.

20. Talk about your favorite place for shopping

- a. Why is it your favorite place
- b. How do you feel when you go there
- c. What are some of the things you bought from this place

- From the past few years I have been residing in Chandigarh
- Chandigarh is a very beautiful city and there are many places where people can go for shopping and spending their leisure time
- A very popular destination for shopaholics is Elante mall
- It is located in the outskirts of the city, also known as the industrial area of the city
- As it has become a popular tourist destination there are many options available to reach Elante mall, like buses, cabs etc
- People mostly visit the mall using their private vehicles and there is ample parking space available at the mall
- I love to shop at this mall as I can buy anything and everything, all under one roof, like, everyday essentials, luxurious goods, electronic items etc
- I feel very excited to explore new trends and fashion at the mall
- The architecture of the mall is really beautiful and well planned with lot of open spaces and resting places for the elderly
- There are 3 floors where people can purchase goods of local and international brands
- Apart from shopping, people can also watch movies, play games and go to discotheques
- Also there is a food court on the top floor where people can try different cuisines.
- When I go to Elante mall, I usually spend more than I intend to as I feel like that I should buy everything that is available
- I have bought many items like clothing, footwear, groceries and also some toys for my younger brother.
- So this is my favorite place to shop.

21. Describe a teenager you know

- a. Who is he/she?
- b. How you know this teenager?
- c. What this teenager likes to do?
- d. How you feel about this teenager?

- I know many teenagers but here I would like to talk about my cousin Rania.
- She is eighteen years old.
- She has just completed her senior secondary in commerce stream.
- She is not tall but very beautiful.
- She has curly black hair and a very fair complexion.
- She generally wears jeans and T-shirts but on formal occasions she wears traditional Punjabi suits.
- She is very polite by nature and respects elders.
- She has a great sense of humour and can turn any tense situation into a happy one.
- She is also very good at studies and many times used to help me when I had any problem in Mathematics.
- Now also she helps me in any situation when I need her help.
- Although she is younger to me she is like a true friend.
- She is so trustworthy that I can open my hearts secrets to her and be sure that she would never let me down.
- Actually she is my paternal uncle's daughter and lives next door.
- We see each other daily and sometimes even play badminton in the park opposite our house.
- Teenage is a very stressful period of life as there are physical and hormonal changes going on at this time.
- At the same time there is the stress of choosing subjects on which the future career depends.
- A great support of family is needed at this time.
- I am fortunate my teenage was a very happy one and so is Rania's.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. What is the difference between teenagers and children

The main difference is the level of maturity. Children are more innocent and immature as compared to the teenagers. Life is less complex for children. However, for teenagers, life seems more complex and confusing as they are going through physical, biological, and mental changes. They are neither adults nor children. Those are the most impressionable years of a person's life and it's the time when they make very important decisions about their career goals.

2. Why do you think this difference can classify teenagers and children

I think this difference is natural because of the changes that they undergo biologically during the teenage years. It is also because of the awareness and the exposure that the teenagers have as compared to children.

3. Who do you like teenager or children?

I like both, but I like teenagers better because I can share my feelings with them and be friends with them. Their company makes me feel young.

4. What is the attitude of teenagers towards old people in India?

It is difficult to generalise and put all teens in one group. Some teens in India think that the old people are too nagging and dislike their ways, so they avoid them. Some always respect them and take their advice for every matter.

5. Do you think teenagers today are better than those 30 years ago?

I think teenagers were always the same. Their opportunities have made their outlook of life different. Today's teens are the most well informed than ever before. They have the power of the internet and the satellite TV. They know or you can say have access to all knowledge. Earlier teens had to listen to their elders because their elders were their only source of knowledge. They were dependent. Today they are more independent. So, they behave differently.

6. What are the differences between teenagers and old people?

Old people have the experience of life, which the youth do not have. So old people are not hasty and impatient like the teenagers. Moreover, teens are very comfortable with the latest technology. Old people find it very daunting to learn about the latest gadgets.

22. Interesting part of your country or A place that is interesting in your country

- a. Where it is
 - b. How you got to know about it
 - c. What is it famous for?
 - d. Explain why you think it is interesting
- India is a diverse country.
 - There are many interesting places in India.
 - There are interesting tourist places, buildings, beaches and many more such areas.
 - Here, I would like to talk about the Taj Mahal i Agra, which is a very interesting historical building.
 - It is one of the most flawless architectural creations of the world.
 - It is also one of the seven wonders of the world.
 - In fact it has been ranked as the first of the seven wonders.
 - It is a magnificent building built of white marble.
 - Mughal Emperor Shahjahan got it built in the loving memory of his beloved wife Mumtaz.
 - About 20,000 workers put in their best efforts for 17 long years to complete this masterpiece.
 - The hands of the master mason were cut off after completion of the building so that such a building could not be made again.
 - I first saw it 7 years ago when I went with my school tour.
 - I was awestruck to see the picturesque beauty in front of my eyes.
 - The tombs of Shahjahan and Mumtaz lie in the basement.
 - I like it because it gives an identity to India in the world.
 - I am proud to be a part of a country with such historic background.
 - Tourists from all over the world flock to see this ultimate memorial of love
 - It has incomparable beauty.
 - A few years ago there were reports that the white marble of the Taj was turning yellow because of pollution.
 - So, the government has taken many steps to save the Taj.
 - Vehicles are banned within a 2 km radius.
 - Electric and battery driven cars and buses now take tourists to the site.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Do you think cities worth visiting is also suitable to live in?
It depends. For some people such places are sources of income. For others, these places are overcrowded and expensive to live in.
2. Do you think cities worth visiting is also suitable to live in?
The place should have good employment opportunities, recreational and educational facilities and the healthcare facilities should also be good.
3. Do you think cities worth visiting are also suitable to live in?
No, I don't think so. A detailed plan can guide people about the place they want to settle in or just visit.
4. What is the difference between the people living in the city and people living in the countryside?
People are the same everywhere, but the life in countryside is slower, and so people have more time for each other. They have fewer needs and so life in villages is not that expensive. So, people care for each other. On the other hand, life in cities is faster, so people are living isolated lives. They are running after material wealth and in doing so have become workaholics. They have no time for each other.
5. What is the difference between big cities and small cities?
Big cities are overpopulated and so have their own set of problems. There is a lot of traffic congestion. During peak hours, it may even take hours covering a few kms by car. The traffic moves at a snails pace. Small cities are better in this respect. Moreover, cost of living is higher in big cities. Small cities are relatively easier on the pocket. Big cities have their set of advantages also. Job opportunities are more and the jobs are also better paid. Small cities have fewer job openings and pay packages are also not that handsome. Crime is also more in big cities just because of the anonymity it offers.
6. What is the difference between north and south part of your country?
There is a lot of difference. The weather is different, so the life is different. People have different cuisines and the clothing styles are also different. Despite all these differences, people embrace each others culture and tradition and live as one.
7. What makes one country different from the other?
Well, almost everything, from clothes to food to language to customs and traditions to rules and laws. Similarities are there because of globalisation, but differences are always there, some minor and some major.
8. Do you like living in big cities or small ones?
I like the life of small cities. I live in a small city and I love it there. I went to Delhi once to visit some relatives, and I found that life is very fast there. I like the peace and calm of small cities.

23. Talk about an interesting talk or a lecture

- a. When did you hear
- b. Where you heard it
- c. What was it about?
- d. Who was the speaker
- e. Explain why you think it was interesting

- I have heard many talks in my life.
- But here I would like to discuss with you a talk which I heard recently in the environment fair held in my home town
- This environment fair is held every year in December in my home town.
- I was surprised to see my old school principal S. Gurbax Singh over there.
- He is very famous person in my home town and is known for his oratorical skills.
- He talked on the topic of global warming.
- The whole globe is involved in it.
- The way he described the causes and effects was very interesting.
- It was an eye-opener for me.
- He said that we humans are the causes and we humans can lessen it.
- He also told us how the pollution which is caused by cutting trees, having more industries and cars and other human luxuries - is leading to global warming.
- Then he told us about the effects of global warming.
- First effect is the rise in the sea level.
- This is because of the melting of mountain peaks.
- Second effect is the changing climate.
- We all know that summers are getting hotter and winters are getting colder.
- Finally, we are having epidemics of diseases like malaria and dengue.
- This is because mosquitoes and flies prosper in the heat.
- He also told how to lessen this phenomenon by simple measures like
 - Not cutting down trees.
 - Planting more trees.
 - Using recycled materials.
 - Saying no to plastic bags.
- I felt very enlightened after listening to his spellbinding speech.

- I try to avoid using plastic bags and also accept recycled material even though quality is low.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. What kind of people are invited to give a speech?

The people who are invited to give a speech are those who are experts in their field and have great/in-depth knowledge about their field. Also, people who can inspire/motivate the audience are invited to give a speech. Besides being knowledgeable they should be good orators/should have good oratorical skills.

2. On what occasion, one has to be a good listener?

I think we should be good listeners at all times. Besides listening carefully and attentively to our parents, elders, teachers, lecturers, leaders, etc., I believe that if we listen to others even during normal conversations, there will be fewer conflicts.

3. Is listening to speeches important for children?

Yes, listening to speeches is important for children. Children can gain knowledge and it also makes them patient by sitting in one place and listening.

4. What is required to be a good public speaker?

There are many traits/qualities required to be a good public speaker. The main one is of course to have good, in depth knowledge of the subject/topic/field. Some other qualities required are confidence, good command of the language, good oratorical skills, and the ability to keep the audience interested and engaged.

5. Do Indian people feel nervous when it comes to public speaking?

Yes, I think that the fear of speaking in public is one of the most common fears in India and around the world. Many people in India have the phobia of speaking in public.

24. Talk about something that you borrowed from your friend

- a. What was it
- b. When did you borrow
- c. Whom you borrowed it from
- d. What you did with it
- e. Why you borrowed it

- I think that sharing things with others is a good habit, in everyday life a lot of people borrow and lend things to each other.
- Some people might feel uncomfortable about borrowing and lending things but it is a practice that has existed for such a long time.
- Today, I would like to talk about a book that I borrowed from my best friend
- It was during last summer when my final exams were going on.
- I remember the weather was extremely hot during these days
- I studied at the library which was close to my home and I found a good environment to study there.
- One day I forgot my economics book while studying at the library and I was not able to find it after that.
- I became anxious and started panicking as my economics exam was two days after that and I badly needed that book for the preparation.
- I called my best friend who was an year elder to me and had given the same exam last year.
- Luckily she still had the same book with her and she said that I can borrow the book from her.
- I immediately rushed to her place and got a sigh of relief when she gave me the book.
- She also said that she can help me prepare for the exam, it was really a nice gesture from her
- So I studied really hard for the next two days and I felt confident about the exam despite of losing some precious preparation time.
- Fortunately my exam went really well and I returned the book to her on the next day with a note of thanks.
- After few months when my result was declared, I was surprised to see that I scored the highest marks in economics.
- I felt so happy and grateful for my best friend.
- I bought chocolates for her to express my gratitude.
- Without her help this score would not have been possible for me.
- So this was a time when I borrowed a book from someone.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Why do some people borrow things instead of buying them?
Some people borrow things because they may not be able to afford buying those things, or perhaps they would not need to use those things more than once. So, instead of buying some people prefer borrowing such things.
2. What would you do if people don't return the money the borrowed from you?
I would request them/remind them to return the money they owe to me, maybe once or twice. If they still do not return the money, I would not ask them again. I believe that it is the individual's responsibility to return what they have borrowed.
3. Why are people embarrassed when they borrow money from others?
People are embarrassed to borrow money because it develops a feeling of inferiority and people feel ashamed that they are not able to manage their finances well.
4. Do you often borrow things in your daily life?
Yes, unfortunately I am very forgetful with stationery items like pencils, erasers, pens etc. I have to often borrow them from my peers and friends at school and school. Many of my friends and peers borrow them from me as well.
5. What things you usually borrow from your neighbours?
I remember few years back I used to borrow things like sugar, salt, basically cooking items. But now we have shops very close to our home so it is very convenient to buy them. I don't believe there is anything wrong with borrowing them in the case of emergency.
6. How you like when some people borrow money from others?
This is something that I am completely against. I believe borrowing money impacts relationships like nothing else and if there is ever a delay in returning money it sours relationships even more.
7. What kind of problems are associated with borrowing things?
I don't believe that there is anything wrong with borrowing things except money. Borrowing money affects relationships especially if there are large sums involved. The lender may feel worried if the money would be returned or not and the borrower feels like he owes something.
8. What is your opinion about the phenomenon of borrowing in society?
Again, I think it is acceptable unless it is about borrowing money. We are social animals. Borrowing and lending is the manifestation of this social dependence. In case of money I believe, a person can take a loan from a bank instead of asking a friend or a relative.

25. Talk about a game or sport you enjoyed when you were young

- a. What was the game
- b. When did you play it
- c. Who did you play with
- d. How you felt about it

Or A game which is not a sport which you played in your childhood.

- What was this game.
 - Where you played this game.
 - With whom you played this game.
 - What is the importance of this game in your life.
- I used to play many games in my childhood such as carrom board, hop scotch, hide and seek and snakes and ladders.
 - Here I would like to talk about hide and seek.
 - It was my favourite game.
 - I used to play this game in my house and sometimes in my friends and neighbours homes too.
 - I also used to play in my school in the recess.
 - I used to play with my friends, family members and children of the neighbourhood.
 - This game was very important to me because I loved hiding in the oddest places and would feel very happy when no one could find me.
 - This game also taught me an important lesson that everything should be done within limits.
 - I remember vividly that once I hid myself in my mother's clothes almirah and I got locked inside.
 - My friends were very scared and told my mother.
 - I cannot forget the tight slap I got from her.
 - From that day onwards, I never hid myself in unsafe places.
 - There is no limit to the number of players in this game.
 - This game also requires no special equipment.
 - Just two people can play it but it is more interesting when more number of players is there.
 - Sometimes I pestered my grandmother to play with us but she could not run fast and was out easily.

- I also played snakes and ladders with my grandmother but hide and seek was my all-time favourite game.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. What kinds of games do children play these days?

Children mostly play electronic games these days. They hardly play outdoors. They play games which are technology oriented. In fact , computer gaming has become a major addiction among today's children and teenagers.

2. Why do people play different kind of games when they grow up?

First reason is that they become more mature and they are able to understand more complex games. Secondly, they outgrow certain games, they find them boring or too simple sometimes. Lastly, they are also limited by the time available. I remember I used to love playing monopoly when I was young but today I don't have the time to play it.

3. Do you think winning is the most important goal for playing games?

Winning is definitely important but I believe there are so many other purposes of games. They teach us cooperation, competition, how to accept a loss. Playing games also enhance our imagination, they make us think outside the box.

4. Do parents in your country encourage children to play games?

No, most parents encourage children to study and not play. It's mainly because of competitions, children need to score higher and higher to get into colleges and to clear entrance exams. Thus parents mainly tell their children to study and to focus on exams.

5. What kind of games do children play at school?

During my school days , we used to play games like hide and seek, chess , carrom board and so on. Then we also invented certain games like statue - a game in which we had to freeze all moments when the other person said statue. I am not sure, what new games children play nowadays but I am pretty sure the old games like hide and seek are still popular.

26. Describe a person whom you have never met but heard a lot about him and would like to meet

- Who this person is?
- What this person does
- Why you think this person is interesting
- What you want to do with this person?

I would like to meet many famous people but here I am going to talk about India's Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

OR

- A person I admire the most is our Prime Minister Narendra Modi.
- He is the first Prime Minister who was born in Independent India, that is, post 15 August 1947.
- He is a dynamic and development oriented leader.
- He represents Varanasi constituency in the Lok Sabha.
- He has been the Chief Minister of Gujarat for four consecutive terms.
- The reason why I admire him is that his life shows how an ordinary boy from a deprived (poor) class could reach the highest levels of the nation.
- It is all because of his hard work and determination.
- I really appreciate his initiatives like Swachh Bharat Abhayan, Make in India. I believe these programs will help establish India's presence among the developed nations.
- His other programs such as Mann Ki Baat shows how good he is at governance.
- He is the kind of leader who practices what he preaches. For example, we have seen him promoting Yoga by celebrating International Yoga Day, but many people don't know that he himself does Yoga every morning.
- His focus on development, eye for detail and efforts to bring a qualitative difference in the lives of the poorest of the poor have made him a popular and respected leader across.
- He is a role model for one and all.
- I would like to meet him and seek his blessings.
- I would like to get his autograph.
- Every country needs people like him to take their nation to the top.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. In what ways can we meet new people?

We can meet new people in many ways. But for me the best way to meet new people is to travel to new places. There are also other ways like joining book clubs, gyms where a person can find like-minded people.

2. Do you think can we get some information from person's dress

Yes, we can get a lot of information from a person's dress like his culture, his place of upbringing -rural , urban and so on. Also , there are other things like if the person is organized or not. I normally think a person wearing shoes and socks to occasions is more formal , more organized whereas people in sandals are more carefree.

3. Do you think our guess about a person is always right?

No, I believe our guess about a person is not always right but in most cases it is. However, I think we have to make guesses about people, it makes our life easier. It simplifies life. Many people later on prove us wrong.

4. Do you have many friends in your community?

Yes I have many friends in my neighbourhood. In fact, two of my closest friends are my neighbours. We regularly borrow and lends things too.

5. Do people feel safe in India?

Yes, India is a diverse country. Many parts of India are very safe but then are parts like Kashmir and the North-East which do face a lot of terrorism. So I think it depends upon the place of the residence. I live in Punjab and it is a very peaceful place. There is some crime but nothing that keeps me up at night.

6. How does technology help in relationship between people?

Technology enables faster and easier connectivity. It also enables us to keep in contact even if we are far-away. I don't think it enables us to make new relationships but it does enable us to maintain relationships, which I believe is very essential in today's fast paced life.

- All the trees are important in some way or the other.
- Here I would like to talk about the mango tree.
- Mango is the national fruit of India.
- The mango tree is the most important tree of India.
- It is found everywhere and is an excellent source of shade.
- The flowering period of the tree is from January to March and the fruiting period is from May to July.
- The mango fruit also has many varieties.
- It is a delicious fruit.
- The immature fruit can be used for the treatment of many eye disorders.
- The raw fruit can be pickled and preserved and used for many months.
- The juice of the ripe fruit is good for many liver disorders.
- The timber of the tree is used for making packing cases and also tea boxes.
- The wood of the tree is considered sacred because it is also used for funeral pyres.
- The bark of the tree produces a gum which has medicinal properties.
- The twigs are also used as toothbrushes.
- The leaves are used for pouring libations.
- So, this whole tree is very useful.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Do people in your country like to grow plants at home?

Yes, they do. Home gardening is a fast growing hobby among the urban people who have even the slightest space for plants. People are also doing terrace gardening. Even I have a kitchen garden. I don't have much open space, but I have grown coriander, mint, green chillies, okra and aubergine in pots. I also have a lemon tree and we enjoy fresh lemons throughout the year.

2. Do old people grow plants?

Yes, they love to. They have the knowledge also. My grandfather keeps guiding me about the water requirements of plants. He also keeps changing the position of our pots. He knows which plants need shade and which need sunshine.

3. How do schools teach students to grow plants?

Unfortunately, schools do not teach these things. At least in the schools I know of. Some schools may be doing so, by organising some activities related to the environment.

4. What is the main plant of your country?

India is a diverse country and enjoys tropical climate. All sorts of plants grow here. There is no plant, which I can call as the main plant. Basil is worshipped in hindu homes, ginger and turmeric have medicinal values, aloe vera has also become very popular.

- and any activity becomes more enjoyable when a person does it with enthusiasm
- Today, I would like to talk about an activity that I do when I am by myself.
- I love to collect photographs especially of my loved ones
- I got this habit from one of my school friends as she had extraordinary talent
- to make a scrapbook
- I got this passion from her as everyone appreciated her work and I liked it a lot as well. Makkar IELTS
- I have bought a digital camera as well using which I click a lot of candid pictures of my family and friends.
- Then, whenever I get leisure time after accomplishing my day's work, I organise all photographs into a collage
- This helps me to retain the memories and presence of all my favourite people
- It is part of my daily life now as it helps me to connect with them.
- This activity gets me a lot of accolades as when any special occasion comes such as Birthdays ,wedding anniversary I gift these pictures to my loved one's.
- I get these pictures framed before giving them as gifts
- I feel in today's materialistic world everyone is getting detached due to social media and Internet. m@ K K AR IELTS
- This small activity makes me feel connected with the people who are important in my life and helps in strengthening my relationship with them
- It is also an activity which gives me immense joy and pleasure
- I would say that this activity is my stress buster and I enjoy doing it when I am alone.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. How do people in your country usually plan free time?

Normally people don't much plan their free time. This is because all their friends and family are not free at the same time. However, some people plan free time by synchronising with their family and friends. They plan their holidays and leaves together and visit places or just do some socialising in their homes.

2. Do young people in your country work longer hours now than in the past?

Yes, they do. Competition has become intense and people have to work longer hours to survive.

3. What are the advantages and disadvantages of flexible work time?

The advantages are that one can work according to one's time. For example if both husband and wife are working, they can work at different times so that one parent can be with their children all the time.

29. Describe a person you know who is working on protecting the environment

- a. Who is that person
- b. What does he/she do
- c. How this person protects the environment?
- d. What difficulty this person has faced
- e. How you feel about this person

- Today more and more people are aware about the need to protect the environment.
- Still very few people take steps to save the environment.
- However, there is one such person whose contribution to the environment is really commendable.
- His name is Jadav Molai.
- He is known as the forest man of India.
- His story is very inspiring.
- He was hired as a labourer in Assam as a part of afforestation programme
- However even after the completion of the project he stayed behind.
- He not only maintained the plants but also grew many more plants.
- What is remarkable is that he has been doing this for the past 40 years.
- Today , due to his efforts that whole area has become a healthy forest
- The forest was rightly named Molai forest after him.
- The forest supports rhinos, monkey, elephants, deer and has many varieties of trees.
- His personal life is also simple.
- He lives alone with his wife and two children in a small hut in the middle of the forest.
- What I learnt from him is that even without money a person can contribute a lot to the environment.
- Even if we don't have the money or time, we can take small steps like saving water, growing trees and so on.
- If we keep making excuses, we will lose our precious environment forever.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. What is the importance of environment education?
Environment education is of paramount importance these days. The rate at which environment is being degraded is so fast that if we don't take steps today, there will be nothing left for our children and grandchildren.
2. How to protect the environment?
We can take simple steps to protect the environment at our individual level. We have to follow some do's and don'ts. Do plant trees; do recycle things; do accept recycled material; do switch off unwanted lights and fans; do use public transport; do car-pooling. Don't use plastics; don't use cars for short distances; don't throw things and buy new ones without need and so on
3. Do you think it is necessary to make environment protection as a subject in school?
Yes, definitely. Environmental science should be a compulsory subject in schools.
4. Is it important to protect the environment?
Yes, I believe that it is our moral responsibility to protect the environment as we are the ones responsible for its deterioration. Secondly, I think our survival depends upon the environment so we really don't have a choice in this matter.
5. Should schools teach students to protect the environment?
Yes, today I believe the importance of schools in teaching morals and values is paramount. We live in a nuclear society where in most cases both parents are busy working. School is the only place left where students can learn about the environment and its protection.
6. Do schools in your country teach students to protect the environment?
Yes, today environment and its protection is separate subject in school. Both the necessity and the ways to protect and save the environment are covered in schools. Besides this, there are also environment fairs organised by schools from time to time.
7. Do companies in your country protect the environment and do they have responsibilities to protect the environment?

Unfortunately, most of the companies in India aren't doing much about the environment. However, recently the governments have started incentivising companies to protect the environment in form of tax waivers and subsidies. This might change the trend. Coming to second question, yes they definitely have the responsibility to protect the environment since they are a part of the society as well

30. Talk about a TV Program that made you laugh a lot

- a. What is the program
 - b. When and with whom you watched it
 - c. What are the characters
 - d. Why did it make you laugh
- I have seen a lot of comedies and sitcoms in my life.
 - Here I would like to talk about an interesting TV program which is Comedy Circus
 - It comes on Sony Channel every Saturday and Sunday at 9 pm
 - I watch it with my family.
 - We all enjoy this program over dinner.
 - Last Sunday also I watched this program.
 - The performance by Kapil and Bharti were awesome.
 - We all laughed a lot that time.
 - Kapil is very good as a stand-up comedian but Bharti can also do slapstick comedy very well.
 - Last time she became a cat and really looked like a cute little fat cat.
 - Bharti has really cashed her obesity.
 - She is an excellent dancer too.
 - Archana Puran Singh and Sohail Khan are the judges in this program.
 - Sudesh Lehri and Krushna got the highest points last Sunday
 - Krushna is Govinda's nephew.
 - But because of this program he has made a name for himself.
 - On Saturdays and Sundays, my family and I finish all our household tasks and sit together at the dining table and watch this program
 - The best thing is that the comedy is clean and has no vulgarity in it.
 - Laughter is needed by all of us these days.
 - It helps to remain tension free.
 - It is a good stress-buster.
 - Nowadays even doctors recommend this as a therapy for depression.
 - There is a laughter club in my home town in which many elderly people are members and they assemble in a park and laugh out loud.
 - This program fulfills my quota of laughter.
 - All channels have sitcoms but I just love this program.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. What makes people laugh in your country (your culture)
People laugh at all sorts of comedy. They enjoy slapstick as well as stand-up comedy.
2. Is comedy very popular in your country?
There is a lot of importance of comedy in my country. Lots of sitcoms are now telecast on TV. Even doctors prescribe laughter therapy for many depressive disorders. Laughter clubs are also gaining popularity among the people.
3. Which comedy TV shows are very popular in your country?
Comedy Circus, The Great Indian Laughter Challenge, Laughter the Master, Hasde Hasaunde Raho and Chhote Miyan are just a few of them.
4. What do you think are the differences between seeing comedy on TV and reading funny materials in a book?
Seeing a comedy is different as you can enjoy slapstick comedy, which you cannot read. Slapstick comedy is one which is based on simple actions, for example people hitting each other, falling down, etc.
Even stand-up comedy makes you laugh because of the way people speak the jokes. Reading funny things also can make you laugh, but you have to do the effort of reading. It is an active activity, whereas watching comedy is a passive activity.
5. Would you like to appear in a TV comedy program?
No, I don't think I have the talent to do comedy good enough to be shown on TV.
6. Is comedy used much in ads in your country? Why?
Yes, it is. Ads are made humorous and attractive to attract people and so the product they advertise also stays in the mind.
7. Do you think funny ads on TV are effective?
Yes, they are. They incorporate the audio and visual component, which stays in the mind longer and people are influenced by these when they go shopping.
8. What do you think are the benefits of laughter?
Laughter is the best medicine for many mental ailments. Laughter also brings people together. It has no language. Everyone understands laughter.
9. Do you think there are differences between what males and females think as humorous?
I don't think there is any difference in genders as far as jokes and comedy is concerned. There may be individual differences but definitely both genders enjoy same jokes and comedies.

31. Describe a plant grown in your country that you think is important

- a. What it is
 - b. Where it is grown
 - c. Why is it important to your country
- India is a diverse country
 - There are many kinds of plants in India
 - All the plants are useful in some way or the other
 - The plant I am going to talk about here is the bamboo plant.
 - It is a very versatile and useful plant
 - There are more than 1500 species of this plant all over the world.
 - It can be grown in a multitude of habitat from sea level to 12000 ft.
 - It is one of the most adaptable plants with many uses.
 - For instance, it can grow in very degraded soils.
 - Because of this it can be used to repair soil damaged by overgrazing and poor agricultural techniques.
 - In addition it has a complex root network.
 - This is ideal for preventing soil erosion and flooding
 - Unlike most tree species, harvesting does not kill the bamboo.
 - So, topsoil erosion and other adverse effects of tree felling are kept to a minimum.
 - The most important point is that bamboo produces 35% more oxygen than other trees.
 - Research has shown that bamboo can absorb as much as 12 tonnes of carbon dioxide per hectare per year.
 - So, this plant can play a great role in stabilizing our country's atmosphere.
 - It can prove an eco-friendly alternative to slow-growing hardwoods.
 - It is also being used by the construction industry for wooden flooring.
 - It is very durable.
 - It has resistance to shrink or swell.

32. A comic actor who is popular in your country

- Who is he/she m a k k a r _ | E L T S
 - What type of person he/she is
 - How you came to know about him/her
 - Why he/she is popular
- I know of many comedians who entertain people but here I would like to talk about my favourite comedian who is Kapil Sharma
 - He is very famous nowadays because of his TV show – Comedy nights with Kapil.
 - He is in his early thirties and looks very handsome.
 - He basically hails from Amritsar and his father works in the police force. His mother is a housewife.
 - He was the winner of The Great Indian Laughter Challenge Season 3.
 - He is a multi-talented personality and can also sing very well.
 - He was a contestant in the reality show ‘Star ya Rock-star’ and was the first runner up in that show.
 - In Dec 2013, he was ranked 93rd in Forbes India Celebrity 100 list.
 - He has hosted many shows but he was appreciated the most for hosting Jhalak Dikhla Ja Season 6 with Manish Paul as a co-host.
 - He is basically a stand-up comedian but can also do some slap-stick comedy.
 - His show Comedy Nights with Kapil is my favourite show.
 - This show is telecast on Colours channel every Saturday and Sunday from 9 – 10 pm
 - I never miss any episode of this show.
 - It has very clean comedy.
 - It can be seen with family.
 - In fact all my family members watch this show together.
 - Many celebrities also come on this show.
 - They come there to promote their latest movies and also make this show more enjoyable for us.
 - People get a chance to interact with these celebs.
 - Navjot Singh Sidhu is also a permanent character of this show but he sits on the side of the audience.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Do your family members and friends like this actor?

Yes, they do. In fact, we all watch his shows together. He provides a type of comedy, which the whole family can enjoy together.

2. Why are film personalities famous? m a k k a r _ | E L T S

Film personalities are famous because they entertain people. Many people watch their movies and so come to know about them. They talk about their favourite stars among each other and so they become celebrities. They also endorse products in ads. They are rich and so many youngsters follow them as role models and want to be like them.

3. Do you think youngsters try to Copy film stars?

Yes, they do. Film stars are their style icons. Young people want to dress like their favourite celebs, walk like them, talk like them and do everything like them. m a k k a r _ | E L T S

4. What are benefits and drawbacks of it?

If the celebs set a good example, then it is very beneficial for the youngsters. For example, if celebs work for charity, many youngsters also come forward and help. However, if any celeb smokes and drinks in public, young people start thinking it is glamorous to do so and so do the same, which is definitely not good.

5. Are famous personalities rich in your country?

Yes, of course they are. They get an exorbitant amount of money for their acting and also from the ads in which they endorse products. For example, I saw an ad of 'visit Dubai' in which Shah Rukh Khan got 30 crores. I heard that Virat Kohli also gets 3 crores for each ad in which he comes.

6. How do they spend their money?

They lead a luxurious lifestyle. They wear designer clothes, which cost a fortune. They travel executive class, stay in the most expensive hotels, own the most costly cars and have a lot of people working for them. They also have to hire bodyguards. They invest in property and also open many side businesses.

7. Do you think they spend money wisely?

They have enough money to spend, so even if some of their spending looks wasteful, it doesn't matter to them. For a common man, most of their spending seems extravagant. Some celebs also do a lot for charity.

8. Why do children love to visit circus?

Circus fascinates children. They love to see the antics done by animals and people.

9. Do people get chance to meet famous personalities in your country?

A few people get a chance to meet famous personalities. Famous people usually don't roam around without their guards. They are busy also. So, normally people do not get a chance to get near them.

10. Should actors be paid more? m a k k a r _ | E L T S

I believe everyone needs to be paid according to the kind of work they do. Normally remuneration is decided upon factors like skill, experience and the work responsibility. So the actors should be paid accordingly to the above factors and not more or less.

11. Are there many Indians who want to work as actors?

Yes, in India lot many people want to become actors as people perceive celebrity/actor life to be glamorous. Youngsters from different parts of India often travel to the Bollywood city of Mumbai to fulfil their aspiration of becoming an actor.

12. Who are more popular in India – TV stars or movie stars?

I think both of them are equally popular. Access to TV in homes has increased the reach of both these type of stars. People love the TV stars as they are able to relate themselves with the TV soaps based on everyday life whereas the movie stars are famous for portraying larger than life roles.

- She is my paternal uncle's daughter and lives next door.
- She is fifteen and is studying in 10th class.
- She is tall and beautiful and has a fair complexion.
- She has dimples on both cheeks when she smiles.
- She has jet black curly hair and generally leaves her hair loose.
- She is such a chatterbox that when she is around, you don't need any TV or radio for entertainment.
- She can go on and on and sometimes I wonder from where she gets all the energy to speak so much.
- She is loved by all in our family and even in the neighbourhood.
- She is fond of watching movies and then she tells me the story in so much detail that I feel I have actually seen the movie.
- She has a great sense of humour and can lighten up any tense situation.
- She is very good at studies and wants to become a lawyer.
- I believe she will be a very good lawyer because she has good communication skills.
- No one can feel bored in her company.
- She is an extrovert and can make friends very soon
- She is also very conscious of her health and goes for morning walk daily.
- She used to be very chubby in childhood but now she has shed off the extra kilos and looks very fit.
- Sometimes her talkative nature has put her in a lot of trouble.
- Many times her teachers have punished her in class for talking a lot.
- I remember once she was made to stand out in the sun for one hour in the scorching heat of the sun.
- She was on the verge of fainting but even that could not quieten her.
- I love this cute chatterbox and when she is quiet, I feel something is wrong and I don't like it.

At present we have coaching centres only in Phagwara and Mohali only.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. What communication skills are important?

I believe verbal communication skills are the most significant and must be honed in every individual. The communication in everyday life revolved mostly around verbal skills rather than written communication or non verbal communication.

Good interpersonal skill is also a top requirement in the jobs these days.

2. Are you talkative?

No I am not a person who speaks a lot. I mostly speak when I am asked to or when some situation requires my opinion. I believe in the philosophy that one should speak less and think before speaking.

3. Are most Indian people talkative?

I guess, yes, most of the Indian people love to talk and it is evident by the large amount of noise you can hear at the public places like railway stations, malls etc. I think one of the primary reasons that Indian people love to talk is the fact that Indians love to socialise. They like to know each other's well being and discuss what is going in one's life

4. What jobs need employees to be talkative? m a k k a r _ | E L T S

The first job that comes to my mind would be of a Radio Jockey because talking is the primary thing they have to do in their job. They are supposed to entertain people by talking a lot, cracking jokes. Another job, I would say, could be a teacher as they have to give lectures to the students, which involves a lot of speaking.

5. Should children be encouraged to talk more?

I believe teaching communication skills to children is very important and they should definitely be encouraged to speak. They should also be taught when they should speak more and when they should speak less because speaking more is not important but speaking the right thing is.

34. Talk about a math skill that you learned in your primary / elementary school.

1. What was the skill?
 2. How did you learn it? m a k k a r _ | E L T S
 3. Do you find it useful and how is it useful?
 4. Explain how it will be beneficial for you in future?
- I learnt many math skills in my elementary school – such as counting, addition, subtraction, multiplication and division.
 - I was good at all of them
 - In fact math was my favourite subject in primary school
 - Here I would like to talk about counting.
 - Our teacher used to teach us this skill by making dots or dashes and asking us to count them.
 - Sometimes we were taught to count on our fingertips.
 - Sometimes we were shown pictures of objects and we had to count them.
 - Counting is very useful in our day to day life.
 - Knowingly or unknowingly we use this skill for measurements and buying and selling.
 - We need to do counting while using money and other things.
 - Even housewives use this skill while working in the kitchen.
 - They have to count the ingredients used in making various dishes and also need to do counting for measuring things.
 - Counting is the base of all other math skills like addition, subtraction and multiplication.
 - In the future also counting will definitely be needed in each and every field.
 - Everybody needs to count in his daily life at some time or the other.
 - Without this basic skill life is un-imaginable.
 - I remember, Mrs Promilla was my math teacher in primary school.
 - She used to be my favourite teacher.
 - That's is why math became my favourite subject at school.
 - It is because of this skill that today I am successful

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. How do you think calculators are helping in maths?

Computers are making calculations much faster and also error free. There are no chances of any calculation going wrong. Repetitive and boring calculations are becoming easier.

2. Do you think computers will make it less important for people to learn math?

No, I don't think so. The computers can do calculations, but learning maths will still be necessary because maths is not just calculations, it is much more than that. It is needed in simple activities like cooking, shopping where one cannot use computers.

3. Do you think computers are going to be more intelligent than humans?

No, never, because Artificial Intelligence is also the creation of human brains. Computers can never beat humans. The fears of AI are unfounded. Even if we believe that computers can be more intelligent, then also they can never have the emotional Intelligence of humans.

4. What is the first subject learnt by children in India?

The first subject that children learn in India is normally a language. It could either be English or their native language. Children normally start by learning the alphabets and then slowly progress to word formation.

5. What methods can be applied to make maths class more interesting?

A lot of schools are going back to the old times and using tools like ABACUS to make maths more interesting for the children. Using practical techniques or puzzles can help make maths more interesting for the children.

Some teachers reward students with things like chocolates to motivate them to solve the problems more quickly.

6. Do you think everybody needs to learn maths?

Yes, apart from language, math is a subject which is used the most in our everyday life so everyone needs to learn it. I can't even imagine how people would survive without math as we are using it all the time like during shopping etc. However, I haven't still figured out the use of advanced math concepts such as Algebra, Calculus which can be applied in our routine life ☺

35. An animal you like the most (Strange/ seen for the first time)-

Elephant

- India is a diverse country
- There are many types of animals found in India
- There are pet animals, domestic animals and wild animals
- Here I am going to talk about an animal which I saw for the first time in Mini zoo at Chandigarh.
- OR
- An animal I like the most is an elephant.
- OR
- Here I am going to talk about an animal which I find strange
- It is the elephant
- The elephants are the biggest land animals.
- They are herbivorous and can be identified because of their trunk.
- The trunk is the projection of their nose and the upper lips.
- There are two types of elephants, the Indian and the African.
- African elephants are bigger than their Indian counterparts.
- They have comparatively larger ears.
- Among the African elephants both the males and females have tusks whereas, only the males among the Indian elephants have tusks and so they are called tuskers.
- The back of the Indian elephants are convex whereas that of the African elephants are concave.
- Indian elephants can be tamed and they are more beautiful.
- Elephants are gregarious animals and live in herds headed by tuskers.
- They have a well structured family life.
- The young ones, called the calf, are looked after by the cow elephants.
- Their cry is called trumpet.
- In India, elephants are captured, tamed and used for various purposes.
- Elephants are among the few animals whose existence is not endangered till now.

An animal you like the most (Strange/ seen for the first time)- Snakes

- India is a diverse country
- There are many types of animals found in India
- There are pet animals, domestic animals and wild animals
- Here I am going to talk about an animal which I saw for the first time in a park near my home
- It was a huge big snake, black in colour and about 4 feet long
- Many people gathered around it.
- A snake charmer was called and he played an instrument and then very deftly caught the snake in a box and went away.
- Snakes are beautiful animals.
- They are reptiles.
- Unlike the other reptiles, snakes have no limbs; so they crawl.
- Their body is covered with scales and they shed their skin once in a while and this is called moulting.
- There are two types of snakes, the poisonous and the non-poisonous.
- Most of the snakes are non-poisonous.
- Snakes feed on small birds, frogs, rodents etc.
- The poisonous snakes use their poison to kill the prey.
- But the others wind around the victim to kill them.
- Such snakes are called constrictors.
- Cobra, vipers and krait are poisonous snakes whereas python and rat-snakes are harmless.
- Snakes are not our foes but are friends because they eat away the rodents like rats who are a great enemy of man.
- We should not kill snakes.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Do you think wild TV animal programs are beneficial?
Of course they are. We get to learn so much about animals. They are beautiful creations of nature. When I see these programs, I sometimes wonder how these animals live harmoniously and have feelings.

2. Why and how are these beneficial?
Animals are part of our ecological chain. They are very important for us. Some programs make us aware of their value to us. We come to know that our activities are harming them. We begin to realise the importance of animal conservation.
3. Do you think schools should teach students about animals?
Yes, definitely. Schools need to make children aware of animals and their importance to us.
4. Do you agree with rare animals being raised in the zoos?
Yes, I do. I know that zoos are unnatural places to raise animals, but at the same time they are safer for rare animals, which are in very less numbers. Today's zoos are very different. They try to provide as much natural habitat as is possible.
5. What should we do to protect endangered animals?
I believe the governments across the globe are working hard to protect the endangered species from getting extinct like in India the government ran a campaign to save the tigers. People can also play an important part in this, if they stop buying items which contain animal parts like tiger skin, or elephant tusks then the poaching of these animals will stop which will help in saving the population of these animals.
6. Do you support experiment on animals?
No I do not support experimentation on animals as I believe it to be morally wrong.
I think with advancements in technology humans can do experimentations with help of computers and robots
7. Why do some people refuse to eat animals?
There are many reasons why some people are vegetarians. Firstly, it might be due to their religion or culture like in India people who belong to Hindu religion do not eat meat at all as is forbidden in their religion. Secondly some people are becoming vegetarian nowadays because the love for animals is growing, more and more people are adopting pets so they have stopped eating animals.
8. What would happen if some species disappear from Earth?
Every species plays an important role on our planet, if some species disappear from earth, then it could have potentially disastrous consequences like if the species of birds disappear it could lead to increase in the population of pests which will impact our crops. So we should try to protect the endangered species.

36. A competition you would like to take part in

- What kind of competition it is?
 - What would you do in this competition?
 - Why does this competition interest you?
- When I was in school, I participated in many competitions.
 - Once I participated in a science fair. I was part of a team.
 - We were the 1st runners up. m a k k a r _ | E L T S
 - Here, I would like to talk about a competition, I would like to take part in.
 - It is a painting competition.
 - Every year there is an environment fair held in my home town
 - The Rotary Club organises this in the month of December.
 - Many competitions are organised, such as mono-acting competition, poetry recitation, flower arrangement, salad decoration, painting and so on.
 - Individuals can participate, and even schools can send their students. m a k k a r _ | E L T S
 - My friend participated in flower arrangement competition last year and won the 1st prize.
 - The prize was a small trophy and a book 'The Wings Of Fire' by Dr APJ Abdul Kalam.
 - I am very good at drawing and painting
 - I would love to compete in painting competition and try to do my best and win a prize.
 - The theme of the painting is announced there only.
 - The brushes and paints have to be carried with you, but the sheets are provided there only.
 - I have made many paintings with poster colours and gifted them to my friends and relatives.
 - Everyone in my circle knows that I love drawing and painting.
 - I am waiting for the fair this year, so that I can participate and try my luck at winning a prize.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. What kinds of people are competitive?
I think in their hearts, all people like to compete and see where they stand among others. But, some people are confident and want to compete more often. Some people are not so sure, but are pushed into competitions by their parents or teachers. The fear of losing takes away the competition spirit from many. Many people realise their potential only after competing.
2. What kind of activities/competitions people like to take part in?
People like to compete in singing, dancing, painting, sports, quizzes and many more types of competitions.
3. There are many competition programs on TV nowadays. Why?
I think people nowadays love watching reality television instead of fiction and dramas. The competition programs are more real compared to the dramas which have become boring and are predictable. In reality shows there is an element of surprise and real human emotions which make them more popular.
4. Do you think competition is important at work places?
I think healthy competition is important at all the places including offices. The feeling of competition helps in bringing the best out of the people and promotes growth. Without competition things become boring and monotonous.
5. What kinds of jobs or work should not have competition?
I believe jobs that are very critical like that of a doctor or medical practitioner should not have any competition as it's involves saving lives of people. Any competition in such cases could pose a great risk to someone's life.
6. What kinds of competitions are popular in your hometown?
In my hometown, sports competition are the most popular. The most popular sport in my hometown is cricket and we often have inter-school competitions in which all the schools in my hometown participate. Normally children in the age group of 14-16 play in these matches.
7. What do you think of those who lose in a competition? M A K K @ R i E I T S
I think losing and winning are both important parts of our life. Someone has rightly said that we do not learn much by winning but losing teaches us the most important lessons in life. So people who lose in the competition should take it positively and learn from the experience they gain. Based on these learnings they should try to improve themselves.

37. Talk about something you would like to get replaced

- What is it
 - Why do you want to get it replaced
 - How you got it m a k k a r _ | E L T S
 - Where it is
- Today's era is a consumerist one.
 - We see new things all around us.
 - There are new models of cell phones, TVs, bikes, cars and so on
 - When I see these new things, I wish to get them
 - Unfortunately, I am not earning yet, and so I have to restrain myself.
 - Here I would like to talk about something, which I want to replace very soon and that is my cell phone.
 - I have a very basic model of cell phone, but all my friends have smart phones.
 - My parents have flatly refused to buy me one, because they are saving for my education abroad. M A K K @R i E I T S
 - They are spending very frugally for my sake, and so I cannot pester them to buy me one.
 - I have started saving all my pocket money, so that I can buy a reasonably priced smart phone.
 - I visited a local mobile phone store.
 - There I saw a Redmi phone for 7,000.
 - It has 5 inch screen, 3 GB RAM, 32 GB memory and many in-built apps.
 - I have read some reviews on the net.
 - Redmi is the best-valued low-range phone in the market.
 - It has Android technology
 - I will get about 2000/- for my old phone.
 - I think within a month or two, I will be able to replace my old phone with a new one.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. What are the things that you want to replace?

Well, I have most of the things that I need and they are working perfectly but if given a chance I would like to replace my phone as it almost 3 years old now and there are new phones in the market which have latest features. I think, if I exchange my old phone then I might get some additional discount as well

2. What kinds of things do people like to replace?

Normally people like to replace their personal belongings once they become old or if better options become available. People like to replace things like gadgets, watches, cars etc

3. Do old people in India like to hoard things?

Yes, old people do like to hoard things sometimes as they get attached to them. Also another reason is that they have bought things with their hard earned money so they don't like to discard or dispose them.

4. Who do you think will want new things – children or old people? M A K K @ R i E I T S

I think both of them would like to have new things but children always have more fascination for new things.

5. What is the difference between new things and old things?

New things often attract people as compared to old things which draw a less enthusiastic reaction. New things are more expensive as compared to old things except in the case of antique items.

 - I visited this national building when I was in 10th
 - Our school took us on an educational tour.
 - I remember vividly, we were 40 students and 4 teachers.
 - It is not only important historically, but also architecturally.
 - The architecture of this building depicts Indian traditions and culture.
 - Parliament House is one of the most magnificent buildings in New Delhi.
 - Visitors to Delhi generally pay a visit to this building
 - The two Houses of Parliament—the Lok Sabha and the Rajya Sabha are located within its walls.
 - It is a huge circular building spread over 6 acres of land
 - The building has twelve gates among which Gate No. 1 on the Sansad Marg is the main gate.
 - The Central Hall is circular in shape and its dome, which is one of the most magnificent domes in the world.
 - The Central Hall is a place of historical importance.
 - The Indian Constitution was framed in the Central Hall.
 - At present, the Central Hall is used for holding Joint Sitzings of the two Houses.
 - The Chamber of the Lok Sabha is semi-circular in shape and has seating accommodation for 550 Members.
 - Rajya Sabha Chamber is smaller in size.
 - It has a seating capacity of 250.
 - The building is fully air-conditioned
 - It combines the value of both the old and the new forms of architecture.
 - The outer portion of the building is finished in red sandstone
 - Though entry to Parliament House is free, it requires official permission for visitors to enter the Parliament
 - The total time required to see the Parliament House is approximately 2 hours
 - The best time to visit Parliament House is when it is in session.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Do you think the governments should maintain the historical buildings?

Yes, of course, the government should maintain historical buildings. They are our pride and heritage. We also earn revenue from these buildings when tourists visit them.

2. Why people like to visit historical buildings

People like to visit such buildings is because these portray (tell us about) our past and how people lived then. India has a rich historical background, and these buildings are architectural marvels. They also show the grandeur with which our rulers lived.

3. What kinds of buildings are popular in India?

The old historical buildings are popular, no doubt, but the new and modern buildings are also very popular. The examples of popular modern architecture in India are the Lotus Temple in Delhi, the Naga Towers in Gandhinagar, Cybertecture egg shaped building in Mumbai and many more

4. Should government try to make buildings look more beautiful?

Yes, of course. Every building should be aesthetically appealing. It should be a combination of utility, durability and beauty.

 - Here I would like to talk about a friend whom I met after 7 years.
 - His name is Mohan and he is about my age – 19 years.
 - He and I were class fellows till sixth.
 - Then his family immigrated to Canada and I lost contact with him.
 - Two months ago he came to India and also paid me a visit.
 - It was a very pleasant surprise for me.
 - I felt very happy.
 - We chatted for a long time.
 - We revived nostalgic memories of our school days.
 - He is very tall and handsome.
 - I remember vividly, how he managed to stand first in class every time.
 - He also took part in extra-curricular activities.
 - He told me all about his life in Canada.
 - He told me about the education system there.
 - He told me that he was doing part time work along with his studies.
 - I was fascinated to hear all that from him.
 - He is studying in Humber College there.
 - His father is working in a gas station and his mother is also working in a grocery store.
 - When he told me that studying in Canada is much easier than studying here, I also got motivated to go and study there.
 - That is why I decided to take the IELTS.
 - If I go there, he will support me as I can stay with him in his house.
 - He told me that there are a lot of scholarships for meritorious students.
 - He has painted such a rosy picture of Canada in my eyes that now I really wish to be there soon.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Is it important for children to have friends?

Yes it is very important for children to have friends as it has lot of benefits like children can play or study with friends and utilize their time in quality manner. Secondly they can share their secrets with friends and learn about skills like teamwork and sharing. Friends also help in developing good communication skills

2. Do you still keep in touch with friends from your childhood?

Yes I am still in touch with my school friends, thanks to social networking websites like Facebook. We normally talk about the things we used to do when we were little. We remember the old memories and laugh at them sometimes.

3. Should teenagers have lots of friends or few good friends?

I think having few good friends is always better than having a large number of friends. Few good friends give one a feeling of security and trust. Good friends are someone on whom one can always rely whereas lot of friends makes friendship superficial.

4. Are teenagers more influenced by their peers or their parents?

According to me it depends with whom the teenagers are spending more time with, if they are spending more time with their friends than they will be mostly influenced by them but if their parents spend more time then they will be influenced by the parents.

5. How would you maintain friendship with a friend who is richer than you?

I treat all my friends equally. To me their social or financial status does not matter. I believe that friendship is not based on our status in the society but it needs qualities like sincerity, trust and being there for each other.

42. Favourite song

- a. What
 - b. Why
 - c. How do you feel about this song
 - d. When was the first time you heard this song
- I love music and I love listening to Hindi and Punjabi songs.
 - Most of these songs are very meaningful.
 - Here I would like to talk about a Punjabi song by a famous Punjabi singer Gurdas Maan
 - The name of the song is Boot Polishan.
 - It is my favourite song.
 - It is from his album Boot Polishan
 - It was released in 2008.
 - The song gives the message that work is worship.
 - Instead of begging for money a person should work and earn.
 - It does not matter if the work is small such as polishing shoes of people.
 - If a person works and earns he can always hold his head high.
 - I heard this song about two years ago and since then it has become my favourite song.
 - Actually Gurdas Mann is my favourite singer.
 - He is a multifaceted personality.
 - He is a singer, actor, director and a lyricist as well.
 - He writes the lyrics of his songs himself.
 - He has also acted in many Punjabi movies.
 - All my family members also love his songs.
 - When we go out anywhere together we play his songs in the car.
 - All his songs have messages.
 - He even performs in stage shows.

I do a mix of both. Sometimes I shop online if I get a good deal. Many sites such as Amazon, Flipkart and Snapdeal, which give discounts

2. What is the difference between shopping with friends and shopping alone?

It's fun to go shopping with friends. You can discuss things and take each other's advice. When I go with my parents, they cannot guide me about the clothes, which are in trend.

3. What are the disadvantages of shopping in a big mall?

In big malls, nobody guides you about any product. You have to use your own judgement. Secondly, you cannot get things on credit, which a small shopkeeper in your town would give you if he knows you. Another disadvantage is that mostly big malls are outside in the suburbs, and so it is only possible to go by your car.

4. Why do people like to buy branded products?

Brands are popular because they provide quality, good after sale service and also provide status.

5. In your opinion are big discounts real or just an advertisement?

Big discounts are real in the case of branded products, but in most cases they are just an eyewash. Sometimes, outdated or defective pieces are sold by giving big discounts.

Yes, most of the Indian people believe money is important, for the same reasons I mentioned before. (provide reasons from previous question)

4. What do you do to make yourself happy?

To make myself happy I like to do a lot of positive things and I also reward myself whenever I achieve something. Hanging out with friends or playing any sport also makes me feel happy but the thing out of which I get the maximum happiness is by helping others, so I go to the temples and help the needy

5. Why are children generally happier than adults?

Children are normally joyful as they have no stress of work and they have less awareness about the negative things in the world. They are at a learning stage so they like to enjoy whatever they are doing. They find unique and creative ways to enjoy themselves even with minimal things.

49. Describe a time when you had to change your plan / you changed your mind

- a. When was it
 - b. What was the plan
 - c. Why you had to change it
 - d. How you felt
- Normally, I plan my activities very meticulously.
 - But, sometimes things do not go as planned and one has to change one's plans.
 - Here I am going to talk about a time when the weather forced me and my friends to change our plan
 - I vividly remember a time when my friends and I had planned to go to a museum, PushpaGujral Science City, near my hometown, where we could not go because of heavy rainfall.
 - Last year, in our summer vacation, we planned to visit this museum.
 - This museum is at a distance of one hour from my hometown.
 - As I live near the bus stand, my friends had to assemble at my house and then we had to go to the bus stand and catch a bus for the museum.
 - It was cloudy, and we could anticipate that it would rain, but we never thought it could be that bad.
 - Just as we were about to leave it started raining heavily.
 - We thought we would wait for sometime for the rain to slow down and then we would go
 - But it started raining cats and dogs, and the rain went on for five hours at a stretch.
 - We could not go anywhere
 - My friends were also stuck at my house
 - But we made it a day to remember
 - My mother made a nice lunch and many snacks for us and we played carom board
 - Although we could not go to the museum, we had a fun time together
 - Even after the rain stopped, there was a lot of water logging on the roads and my friends could not go home till late evening.
 - So that was a day when the weather changed our plans.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Do old people often change plans?

I think by the time one becomes old, he/she has learnt the importance of planning and doing things on time. So they like to go as per the plan because deviations from plans often create problems which old people do not like

2. Do young people like to change plans?

Young people nowadays are working on multiple things, they like to do multitasking, in order to achieve this, they make frequent changes in their plans. But at the same time young people like to be in control of things they do and if it is often interrupted by changes then they won't like them.

3. What are the common reasons when people need to change plans?

The reasons for changing plans are mostly circumstantial. Changes are hardly planned. If something or other comes up then people have to change their plans.

4. How would you tell your friends when you must change your plan?

If I make any changes in my plan then I will immediately inform it to my friends or anyone else who is involved in the plan. I will explain to them the reasons behind the change. Informing immediately is necessary because then other people can understand and plan their time accordingly.

5. What kinds of plans are practical?

I think simple plans which involve less people are always practical like planning for a trip or outing etc. But plans which involve a lot of people and are hard to achieve tend to be less practical as they need a lot of time to execute and there is dependency on too many people.

50. Describe something important that you lost in the past

 - It was my first cell phone
 - I got my first mobile phone when I completed my high school.
 - It was a Samsung S2
 - My uncle gifted it to me.
 - I was very happy when my uncle gave me this phone.
 - Unfortunately, I lost it when I travelled from Phagwara to Jalandhar by bus.
 - There was a lot of rush, but I got a seat in the front row.
 - I took out my phone to make a call, but after that I don't remember whether I put it back or not.
 - When I got down, I realised my phone was missing.
 - The bus was to go to Amritsar. So, it had already left.
 - I realised with a sinking heart that my phone was gone for ever
 - So I went to an Airtel service centre and got a complaint lodged and got my sim cancelled.
 - It was black in colour.
 - It was a rectangular phone and had 4.3 inches touch screen display
 - It also had a calculator, a calendar, an alarm, a light and some games.
 - Its battery backup was very good.
 - I was very possessive about my Samsung phone.
 - I never let anybody touch my phone.
 - I used an Airtel prepaid connection with it.
 - I had to pay for it from my pocket money.
 - So, I used it very frugally.
 - I used to play tetris on my phone.
 - I also used the phone to send SMS to my friends.
 - Sometimes I used the calculator and sometimes I listened to FM radio on my phone.
 - It was a very sturdy phone.

- Many times it had fallen from my hands, but it did not break and worked perfectly well.
- It had a camera of 5 megapixels on which I captured some photos of my friends and family.
- I clicked many selfies with it.
- I used many applications like whatsapp and facebook to stay connected with my friends.
- I miss my phone because it was a gift and was precious for me.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. What kinds of people may lose things often?

People who have a bad memory and are unorganized tend to lose things often.

2. What can we do to prevent losing important things?

We should try to keep things organized like instead of leaving things here and there we should have designated places for things and we should always place them there. For examples car keys should be hung on a key holder, that way you will never lose them

3. What would you do if you saw something valuable but didn't belong to you on the street?

If I find something that doesn't belong to me, I will first try to find the owner of that thing. If I am unable to do so, then I will donate it to the poor.

4. What kinds of things have you lost so far?

Well I keep losing a lot of things and sometimes I really feel bad about it. Once I lost my wallet and it had my id documents as well apart from the money. I have also lost my mobile phone, lunch box etc

 - She gave me a golden beaded purse to go with it.
 - Whenever I wear the suit, I wear my traditional Punjabi shoes, which match perfectly with the suit.
 - When I wear that suit everyone compliments me
 - I feel very good when I receive those compliments.
 - Actually, my aunt runs her hobby classes of cooking in Chandigarh. I stayed with her during my vacations and helped her.
 - She could accommodate more number of students because of my help.
 - She offered me money, but I refused because I had not helped her for money.
 - So she bought this expensive suit for me on my birthday.
 - I really like the suit and have worn it on many occasions.
 - Last time, I wore this suit at my college farewell.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. What kinds of clothes do people wear after work?
People wear comfortable and casual clothes after work, because usually at work, people have to wear uniforms or formal clothes. Once people come back home, they like to relax and want to be more comfortable.
2. What kind of clothes should people wear at work?
At work people should wear proper and formal clothes. At some workplaces, uniforms are needed, which gives them an identity and develops a sense of discipline. It also depends on the type of work people do. If someone is working as a gym instructor, he or she cannot wear formal clothes to work. They have to wear sports wear. www.facebook.com/makkariELTS
3. Do you think students need to wear school uniforms?
Yes, I think students need to wear school uniforms, as they act as a social leveler/equalizer. Uniforms give an identity to the students and also inculcate a sense of discipline among students. Uniforms are also good for the school's security, as if any miscreants enter the school, they can be easily spotted.
4. Where do Indian people buy clothes?
Indian people buy clothes from shops and stores in the local markets and in shopping malls. There are many small-scale stores and boutiques that are run from home, from where people shop for clothes. Also, online shopping is very popular in India. There are many popular shopping websites, like Amazon, Flipkart, Snapdeal and so on, from where people buy clothes.
5. Does personality affect how people choose what to wear?
Yes people with good personality always like to wear expensive clothes which are made of fine material although they tend not to wear lot of glamorous clothes nowadays but still they prefer to wear expensive clothes made out of finest material
6. When should people wear formal clothes?
People should wear formal clothes to work and on formal occasions like functions, interviews etc
7. Do people wear formal clothes more often than before?
I think the trend is changing; people nowadays wear less formal clothes because fashion is providing them with abundant options. Even few companies like facebook and google allow people to come to office in casual clothes. People find themselves more comfortable in casual clothes.
8. What clothes do university students wear for their graduation ceremonies?
University students normally wear a gown and a cap on their graduation day. It is a trend to throw the caps in the air, once the graduation ceremony is over.

52. Describe a place where you often visit with friends and family

1. Where is it
2. How you know the place
3. How you go there
4. Why you want to visit it

- I love shopping.
- It's one of my favorite hobbies.
- I normally do shopping in bulk at wholesale stores.
- There is one such store – Best Price around 15 mins drive from Jalandhar.
- The store opened around four five years ago.
- I remember when it opened there was a huge advertisement and one could see claims like best price guarantee.
- I thought it was a marketing gimmick
- Then one day my uncle visited it and told us the claims are not false.
- The store really offers huge discounts.
- There are heavier discounts on larger order sizes.
- We normally go there once every month.
- It's around 12 kms from my house. We normally prefer to take our car.
- Sometimes my uncle also joins us.
- We buy so many things like groceries, utensils, cleaning supplies and fruits.
- Recently they added a new garments section too.
- Another advantage is that the store offers free cardboard packaging.
- Also on orders worth more than Rs 5000 they offer free home delivery as well.
- They have a good parking space too.
- But during festival season even this huge parking falls short
- We can see queues outside the store.
- I can spend hours and hours here just shopping and never getting bored.
- There is just one thing that I dislike and it's the long queues at the checkout counters.
- They have around 20 checkout counters and they are always full.
- It takes anywhere between 15 to 30 minutes waiting for the turn.
- It ones place I can safely say the wait is worth the fruit.

Yes it is very easy to make friends nowadays because of technology. Earlier people could make friends only when they met someone but now they can make friends on social networking websites and also from different parts of the world.

4. How could people find reliable friends on the internet?

Friends are really important part of our lives. In such a time it is difficult to find good and trustworthy friends, especially on the internet, so whenever you make friends online make sure you have some common interest and don't share personal things in the beginning. Later you should also try to meet them in real life and learn more about them in this way you can be sure if they fake or real.

5. Do you like to make friends with older people?

Yes I like to make friends with older people because one gets to learn a lot from them. Older people have lots of experiences to share from which we can learn and become successful in life. Also older people feel happy when younger people talk to them

6. Where do Indian people like to travel?

India is a diverse country. There are a lot of places people like to travel. They visit historical places, museums. They travel to the mountains and beaches. They also travel to foreign countries.

7. Is there a difference between young people's preference and old people's preference?

Yes, of course there is. Our likes and dislikes change with age. What an old person likes may seem too old-school to the young people. What the young people like may be frowned upon by the elderly.

8. Do you think interpersonal skills are more important than studying?

Both things have their own importance. Even employers have started giving importance to these skills in addition to the degree.

9. What kinds of group activities do Indian people like to participate?

Indian people like to participate in team sports , dances, singing and many other group activities.

10. What are the advantages and disadvantages of travelling with friends?

The advantages are that you enjoy more with friends. You also feel secure. Disadvantages are that you don't get to meet and interact with new people. You are busy in your own group.

53. Describe about some story which you like a lot or someone told you about. Or describe a memorable story told by someone.

- Who told you this story?[makkariELTS]
 - When did you hear it?
 - What was the story about?
 - Why you liked this story?[makkariELTS] or Why you found it memorable
- I have heard a lot of stories in my life.
 - I believe that storytelling is an art as old as civilization itself.
 - My grandmother used to tell me stories every night at bedtime.
 - All her stories were fun to hear
 - Some stories were fairy tales, some of princes and princesses and some were tales from the Panchtantra, which had animal characters in them.
 - Most of her stories had some moral behind them
 - Here I would like to talk about a story which she told me many times.
 - This is the story of the greedy dog.
 - Once upon a time there was a dog
 - He was very hungry.
 - He wandered here and there in search of food.
 - He got a juicy bone from a butcher's shop.
 - He felt very happy.
 - He took the bone and ran away.
 - He reached on a bridge of a river.
 - He saw his own shadow in the water.
 - He thought that there was another dog with a juicy bone in his mouth.
 - His mouth watered and he wanted to snatch that bone from him.
 - He started barking on him and as he opened his mouth, the bone fell down from his mouth in to the river.
 - The dog lost his own juicy bone.
 - He repented at his greed.
 - But, alas nothing could be done.
 - The moral of the story is that the greedy lose what they have.
 - Greed is a curse.
 - My grandma used to teach me values of life through these stories.
 - Now, I tell these stories to my niece and nephew when they come to my place.
 - They enjoy these stories a lot.[makkariELTS]

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions(also refer to the intro sets on books)

1. Has storytelling changed over a period of time?

Yes, definitely. Everything changes with time. My grandmother used to tell me stories from her memory, and had no book in her hand. Now, I see my sister reads out stories to her children from the various books she buys from the market. Telling stories to children has also largely been replaced by watching TV. Grandparents, parents and children are glued to the TV screen for long hours and there is no time left for story telling. [makkarIELTS]

2. Which way is better, traditional storytelling or the use of technology in storytelling?

I believe the traditional method is much better. It has a personal touch and increases the bonding between parents or grandparents and children. Unfortunately, it is dying out and programmes like curious George and ChhotaBhim are taking its place.

3. Do you think that generally most of the people are good at storytelling?

It is very difficult to generalize and answer this question. One thing is sure, and that is that we all tell stories from time to time in our life. Some people are born story tellers and can bind their audiences for long periods of time. They can concoct stories on the spur of the moment. It is difficult to tell whether their stories are fake or real.

4. What makes storytelling effective?

The way the stories are told can make any story effective. The use of gestures also helps. Using the right pauses at the right places and good pronunciation makes the stories effective. But, perhaps the most important thing to see is to read the interest of the audience. Fairy tales may amuse children, but may not create impact on adult listeners. Young people may be interested to hear stories related to their favourite celebs.

5. Is it important to tell stories?

Yes, it is very important to tell stories. They are a good means of communication. Sometimes a message may be conveyed through a story in a much better way than by a simple conversation.

6. Is reading books beneficial or watching documentaries better?

Both have their sets of pros and cons. But, I think reading has an edge over watching a documentary. Reading is an active phenomenon, whereas watching a documentary is a passive activity. Reading is not only good for children, but also delays cognitive decline in the elderly. Dementias can be delayed if people read a lot. However, watching a documentary can make things easier to understand, and if made well, can have a long-lasting effect.

54. What would be your perfect holiday or vacation look like?

- Where would you like to go?
 - Who would you like to go with?[makkarIELTS]
 - How would you like to spend it?
- Holidays can be relaxing holidays in which a person just goes to some different place and lazes around to relieve his stress.
 - Holidays can also be hectic in which the whole aim is to do as much sightseeing as possible.
 - So for people who otherwise have physically active lives, a relaxing holiday would be perfect.
 - But for all others the hectic holiday would be ideal.
 - I prefer to see new places and meet new people.
 - So, for me a perfect holiday would be full of life.
 - I would like to go to Jaipur with my family.
 - We would go by train.
 - We would go through Pack Travels tour operators..
 - They have very reasonable packages for anywhere within India.
 - We would stay there for a week and see a lot of places.
 - There are a lot of forts and palaces in Jaipur.
 - We will see the HawaMahal, JantarMantar, City Palace, Maharani Palace and Amer fort.
 - We would also do a lot of shopping there.
 - I have heard that every December there is a handicraft fair there which has handicrafts from different areas of Rajasthan.
 - I would buy some handicrafts from there.
 - I would buy some souvenirs for my friends.
 - There is also a ChokhiDhani place there just like Haveli where many artists display the culture and tradition of Rajasthan.
 - The entry ticket includes the traditional Rajasthani meal.
 - I would enjoy that also.
 - It would be a perfect holiday for me.[makkarIELTS]
 - Holidays break the monotony of day-to-day life
 - They bring mental and physical relaxation.
 - They help us to recharge our batteries and come back to work with added energy.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Do people in your country like to spend holidays abroad or at home?
India is a diverse country. There is a lot to see and do in India. People in my country like to spend holidays by visiting many places in India, and also abroad. It also depends on their pocket and the time they can afford for holidaying. There is so much diversity within India that it seems like visiting a foreign country at times. For example, if a person from the north India, visits the South, he experiences different culture, different food, different language and enjoys himself at the fraction of cost of what he would spend on visiting a foreign country.
2. What are the benefits of spending the holiday abroad and in own country? Which one do you prefer?
Holidays abroad are a much broader experience of a new culture, food and language. But domestic holidays are easier on the pocket and also very beneficial in many ways. Holidays abroad are also a status symbol, as they can be afforded by few people. Holidaying in ones own country is safer than holidaying abroad. I prefer holidaying abroad, but it seems like sour grapes for the time being.
3. What do we have to arrange before going to holiday?
We have to arrange a lot of things. We must see that the rail, road or air tickets have been confirmed. Then we must also find out about the weather of that place and pack our clothes accordingly. We must also make a list of places to visit in that place. A well planned holiday can have pleasant memories for a lifetime.
4. Do you like long holidays or short holidays?
I like long holidays as they can help me unwind the stress of everyday life plus holidays help me in focussing on other good things in life like reading, art etc
5. Do you think modern lifestyle gives people enough time for leisure?
Modern lifestyle is very stressful and due to intense competition people hardly get time for themselves leave alone leisure time.
6. What is the most popular tourist attraction in India?
Taj Mahal is one of the most popular tourist attraction in India. It attracts millions of tourists from around the world. It is made up of white marble and it is a symbol for love made by a king in remembrance of his wife
7. What is the most important factor for a tourist attraction?
Most important tourists attractions in the world are known for their uniqueness, means they do not exist anywhere else in the world like Pyramids of Egypt. The architecture, the history behind these tourists is what attracts tourists the most

55. Describe the time when someone took a good photograph of you.

- When was the photo taken? Makkar IELTS
 - Where was the photo taken? [makkarIELTS]
 - Who took the Photograph? [makkarIELTS]
 - How you felt about it
- Nowadays, almost everyone has become a photographer.
 - The smartphones of today have made it possible.
 - I click many selfies with my phone and keep deleting those, which don't turn out good.
 - Actually, I become very conscious in front of the camera and the photographs usually don't look natural.
 - Here, I would like to talk about a time when a professional photographer clicked a photograph of me, which has come out very nice.
 - I remember it was my cousin's wedding two months ago.
 - I was wearing my new silk suit. [makkarIELTS]
 - After the main function, we were all dancing like mad to the tune of DJ
 - All my cousins were on the floor.
 - The cameramen were there covering it all. Makkar IELTS
 - Later on, we asked the photographer to give us all the photos and videos he had captured in our external drive, so that we could see them and pick out the best ones.
 - The photographer was very reluctant to give all the coverage to us, but we insisted and he had to give in.
 - All my photographs on the dance floor were good, but one was exceptionally good.
 - Two of my cousins are also there in the pic and all are looking good.
 - We were all so engrossed in dancing that no one was conscious.
 - All of us are in a typical Bhangra pose.
 - I was wearing a yellow suit with green embroidery and matching jewellery.
 - One of my cousins was in magenta suit and the other one in royal blue.
 - This picture has come out very colourful.
 - My aunt got this photograph enlarged and framed and gifted one copy to all three of us.
 - Now this is adorning the wall of our living room.
 - Whenever, I see this picture, the memories of the whole wedding come in front of my eyes.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions (refer to intro questions on photography in the intro sets)

1. Do you like to get your photographs clicked?

No, I am very camera shy and become very conscious.

2. Is it good to take a lot of photographs?

Photographs are mirrors of the past. They capture precious moments, which may otherwise be forgotten. So, yes, I think it is good to take a lot of photographs. Also with the coming in of digital cameras, it is not very expensive to click photographs. Later on, when you get time, you can sort out which photo to keep and which to discard.

3. There are a lot of additions made to photographs these days. What attitude of people does this show?

People want to look their best. Nowadays, people do a lot of editing on photographs. In my opinion, it takes away the originality of the moment. Sometimes, people do such additions or changes with wrong intentions. They may put someone's face on someone else's body. This may hurt the sentiments or may even cause problems.
Ma kkar IE LTS

4. Is this going to affect the photographers and their working style?

Yes, of course. Photographers who know how to make subtle changes and make people look good may become more popular and get more work. But, they should remain within some limits and not make changes, which make everything look artificial.

5. Do people like digital photographs or printed photographs?

It is a matter of personal choice. Digital photographs don't occupy space and the person may store thousands of them in one computer or laptop. Printed photographs can be put on display in a frame. But, one cannot have many of them

6. How will this change in the future?

This may change a lot. Digital photo frames are there in which a person can enjoy all photographs while sipping tea. No one will have the time to open the traditional album and go through the printed photographs.

7. Will photographs replace paintings in the future?

To a lot of extent, yes. But, not entirely. Paintings have their own personal touch. But it requires special talent to make a painting that can look real. Moreover, paintings tend to be very expensive as the cost of canvas and paints is also exorbitant nowadays. Photographs are much cheaper.

8. Would you like taking photos with strangers? [makkarIELTS]

Yes, if want to befriend that stranger. It may develop friendships for a lifetime.

56. Describe something you did to help others / Occasion on which you have helped someone

- Where did you help/ what was the situation? [makkarIELTS]
 - When
 - How you helped
 - What was their reaction after your help
- Helping others is a very good thing.
 - I have given and received help many times.
 - Here, I would like to talk about a situation, when I helped my friend in studies.
 - When I was in 10th, my friend Rahul suffered a sprain in his ankle while playing hockey in the school.
 - He was advised strict bed rest for three weeks.
 - Our exams were very near and Rahul's mother was very worried that he would fail this time if he did not attend school.
 - So, I decided to help him as much as I could.
 - Every day after school, I would go to his house and update him with everything that was done in school.
 - His mother was so happy with my efforts that she would prepare nice shakes or something to eat for me everyday.
 - Perhaps, that was her way of thanking me.
 - I used to reach home very late, but when I told the reason, they were OK with it.
 - Then the exams came, and Rahul and I both scored above 80% marks.
 - I realised that in helping him, I had helped myself even more. [makkarIELTS]
 - After this incident, Rahul and I became even more intimate friends.
 - Last month Rahul took his IELTS and scored 7 bands and has planned to go for higher education in Canada.
 - Because of Rahul, my parents have also decided to send me to Canada for my higher studies. Ma kkar IE LTS
 - Earlier they were reluctant to send me.
 - When I helped him, then I did not know that it would have this far-reaching effect.
 - I have realised that helping others gives much more satisfaction than becoming selfish and looking after one's own interests.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Do you like helping others?
Yes, I do. I love helping others. I have realised it gives a lot of mental satisfaction and happiness.
2. Should parents teach helping others to their children?Ma kkar IE LTS
Yes, of course. Parents are responsible for bringing their children into this world, and so it is their duty to make their children into responsible citizens of the future. Parents don't have to do anything special to accomplish this. They just have to lead by example. Children will automatically follow their footsteps. If all citizens are helpful and nice, then the whole world would become a nice place to live in.
3. Do you think nowadays people do more good work as compared to the past?
I don't think so. Life in the past was simpler and slower. People helped each other a lot. Now, everyone is in the rat race of money and materialism. No one has the time to help others.
4. Will you help others in the future?
Yes, definitely. I believe that we must do unto others as we want them to do unto us. If I will help others, only then I can expect help from others when I need it.
5. How do you encourage children to help others?
Nothing special is needed. Children are good observers and copy what their elders are doing. All you have to do is help others and they will automatically follow.
6. How do world social organizations such as Red Cross collect their funds worldwide?
They do so by advertising their work. They organise activities and involve young people in them. They also take the help of media.
7. Do small non-government organizations always need big organizations' help or can they collect funds themselves? Ma kkar IE LTS
No, they do not always need big organisations help. If their projects are small, they can manage on their own, otherwise they can seek help of their bigger counterparts.

8. Do you think people in India should help foreigners who are visiting India and who need help? (Why? / Why not?)Ma kkar IE LTS

Definitely, yes. India is known for its hospitality and helpful nature. Guests are treated like Gods. Tourists are our guests. If tourists need help, they should be helped. They will take back happy memories and more and more tourists will flock-in in the future.

9. What is the most important way for a country to help foreigners who are visiting the country?

Foreigners can be helped by guiding them about our customs and traditions, so that they do not unknowingly hurt anybody's sentiments. They can be helped by providing them good and hygienic food, which suits their taste. They can be helped by not fleecing them when they buy some souvenirs.

10. Many people only look out for themselves and never think about helping others. What do you think of this attitude?

I think such people are very short sighted. They do not think that if they don't help others they will also be left alone when they need help.

11. Do Indian people help others who need help, such as people in extreme poverty? (How?)

Yes, Indian people help others who are in extreme poverty. Some help directly and some help through charity organisations.

57. Talk about an important river or lake in your country or hometown

- Which water body is that
 - How do you know about it? m a k k a r _ | E L T S
 - Why does it impress you so much
- India is a diverse country.
 - There are many rivers, lakes, beaches in India which are important.
 - One important river that I would like to talk about here is the river Ganges or the Ganga, as we popularly call it
 - River Ganga is a sacred river and treated as a Goddess among the Hindus.
 - It has significant influence on the life of the Indians.
 - It is one of the longest rivers of the world and is the longest river in India.
 - The River Ganga emerges out of the Himalayas and falls into the Bay of Bengal.
 - It has a number of tributaries like Yamuna, Ramganga, and Ghagra, etc.
 - The Ganga is a perennial river as water is available throughout the year.
 - The river has formed one of the most fertile flood plains of the world.
 - We get the golden crops from the fertile lands on the bank of River Ganga.
 - The water of River Ganga is widely used for agriculture purpose.
 - The Ganga has been made national waterways of India.
 - It is navigable up to Hardwar.
 - The Ganga plain is one of the most fertile plain and is the granary of India.
 - Our Government has initiated projects for wider utilization of kind water of River Ganga.
 - This would bring enormous prosperity and economic development in our country.
 - All these features made the river as the Ideal river of India.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Do people like that river in your country?

Yes, of course they do. It is treated as a Goddess. People put the ashes of their dead kith and kin based on the belief that this will give the departed souls a place in heavens.

2. Do you like any activities in water?

Yes, I like boating. Once I went to Sukhna Lake and did boating over there. I just loved it.

3. Is it necessary for everyone to learn swimming?

Yes, I believe everyone should know swimming. People in coastal areas especially need to know it. It is a good exercise and enjoyable too.

4. Do people in your country go to swim in their free time?

Yes, many people do, especially in summers. I come from a small town and there are 4 swimming pools there, which shows that people like swimming.

58. An exciting book you read or a book you read recently

Describe an exciting book you have read

- When you read it
 - What type of book is it
 - What is it about
 - Why did you find it exciting
- I have not read many books apart from my text books.
 - Here, I would like to talk about a book, which my friend gifted me, and I read it all.
 - I found this book very exciting and motivating and would like to read it again.
 - This book is 'The Wings of Fire' by Dr A.P.J. Abdul Kalam
 - My friend got this book as a prize when she participated in a declamation contest
 - It is Dr.Kalam's autobiography.
 - It was first published in 1999.
 - This book became popular only after Dr. Kalam became the President of India.
 - He was sworn in as the president of India on 25th July 2002.
 - Mr Arun Tiwari helped Dr Kalam in writing the book.
 - In this book Dr. Kalam says why he wrote his autobiography.
 - This book is very motivating.
 - From this book I came to know all about the life and achievements of Dr A.P.J. Abdul Kalam
 - Dr Kalam was born in a very poor family in the southern parts of India at Rameshwaram.
 - The reason why I admire him is that his life shows how & ordinary boy from a deprived class (poor family) could reach the highest level of the nation.
 - He became not only the best rocket engineer but also the first citizen of the nation.www.facebook.com/makkarIELTS
 - It is true that he described his post as the President as a piece of luck, but his achievement as a rocket engineer was because of sheer hard work.
 - He is a role model for one and all.
 - The success of Dr Kalam depended on the fact that he was willing to grow daily.
 - He learned everything that come to him and was always looking for things to learn.m a k k a r I E L T S
 - The real success of Dr.Kalam is in his application of the discipline, what he learned, in other fields also.
 - That is why he could contribute to the making of the artificial limbs of lesser weight.

- In him we find a person with insatiable quest for knowledge & great love for suffering fellow beings.
- Unfortunately, we don't have Dr Kalam with us today, but he will live in the hearts of all Indians.
- I would like to read this book again, because it is a very motivating book.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Do people in your country like to read books?
Yes, people of my country like to read books. There are bookshops in most towns and cities, which are all doing good business.
2. What kinds of books are most popular in your country?
All types of books are very popular. India is a diverse country. People have diverse tastes in everything, including reading.
3. Do you think reading is important?
Yes, reading is very important. It develops imagination and also develops language skills.
4. Do you think electronic books will eventually replace paper books?
Not completely, but to a large extent yes. E-books have a lot of advantages

Benefits of e-books over traditional books

Easy to carry while traveling – eBooks allow you to bring a whole library with you wherever you go. You can switch between titles with ease and the weight is lighter than a standard paperback.

Need less storage space - Those who own a lot of books know how much space they can take up, but with a reader, your bookshelf is located on a small handheld device, your computer or on both.

Less costly - eBooks are often cheaper in the long run because there are no printing fees associated with them. In fact, you can often find free eBooks online, whereas physical books almost always cost you something. However, you have to spend one time on a reader, such as a kindle or any other tablet.

Immediate purchase - When you buy an eBook, your reward is instantaneous. Whereas if you order a book online you have to wait for it to arrive before the fun begins.

You can do font adjustments. With an eBook, you can instantly change the darkness of the lettering or the size of your font.

You can do night reading. If you read in bed, an eBook may be a good option as many readers come with built-in reading lights.

5. Some people like to collect books. Why do you think they do this?

They do so because they love books. They treat books as collectibles, and are proud of their collection.

6. Is compulsory reading (in school) is a good idea?

Yes, definitely. In order for students to achieve in math, science, English, history, geography, and other subjects, reading skills must be developed to the point that most of them are automatic. Students cannot struggle with word recognition when they should be reading quickly for comprehension of a text. But the ability to read and write develops with careful planning and instruction. Children need regular and active interactions with print.

- Reading is a Good Workout
 - Just like muscles, the brain benefits from a good workout. And reading is more demanding than watching TV or listening to the radio.
- Reading Builds Vocabulary
 - While reading books, especially challenging ones, you will find yourself exposed to many new words you wouldn't be otherwise.
- Reading Helps Self Esteem
 - Another one of the key reading benefits is that the more you read, the more knowledgeable you become. With more knowledge comes more confidence. More confidence builds self-esteem. So it's a chain reaction.
- Reading Improves Creativity
 - Reading exposes you to new ideas and more information helps to develop the creative side of the brain.

7. What books do children read and what do adults read?

Children read fantasy, fiction and books on supernatural characters like Barbie, Superman and Shaktiman. Adults read biographies, fiction and religious and spiritual books. www.facebook.com/makkarIELTS

8. Why men and women prefer different books?

This is because they have different tastes.

9. Why some books become internationally popular?

This is perhaps because these receive a lot of publicity.

10. What type of books children read nowadays? What type of books did children like reading in the past and what do you think they will read in the future?

Nowadays, generally speaking, the reading habit of the children is on the decline. Whatever books they read are based on fantasy, fiction and supernatural characters like Barbie, superman and Shaktiman.

50 years ago – Children read a lot. They read moral and spiritual books. They read animal stories.

After 50 years – I do not think they will do any reading. All the time will be spent in front of computers.

11. Do you think children have lost their interest in stories?

No, I don't think that children have lost their interest in stories. However, the stories they read today are very different from those in the past.

12. Can storybooks be an ideal gift for children?

Yes, definitely! Storybooks can be an ideal gift for children. They can help the child imagine the characters in the mind, which is the first step to creativity. Another important benefit is that we can impart the knowledge of culture, tradition, moral values and religion in the mind of the child. This forms the basis of the child's personality. Finally, storybooks enhance the curiosity of the child and enhance their mental growth.

13. What can be done to encourage the habit of reading among children?

A lot can be done to encourage the habit of reading among children. The first and foremost step would be to make books available. There should be good libraries in the schools as well as in neighbourhoods. Story telling competitions could be organised. If children have to take part in these competitions, then naturally, they would be encouraged to read books. Finally, books could be made more interesting by adding graphics.

14. How does reading help a child?

Reading helps to improve concentration. It also helps to improve general knowledge. It also improves the language skills and satisfies the curiosity of children on various things.

15. What sort of books can be suggested to children to read?

Children should be encouraged to read religious and historical books. They should also read biographies and autobiographies of famous people so that they get motivation from them. They should also be encouraged to read books on science and technology. However, these books should be made very interesting by adding pictures.

16. How much should a child read every day?

A child should read half to one hour daily. I think that would be enough considering that they have to go to school and do their homework as well.

17. What is the difference between the books sold in the past and the books sold nowadays?

In the past, books related to culture, tradition, religion and history were sold. Nowadays, books are mostly based on fiction and fantasy. E-books have become very popular nowadays as compared to the printed books.

59. Describe a country in which you would like to work for a short time

- Where you would like to work
 - What kind of job would it be
 - When would you like to go
 - Why you want to work there
- I am planning to go abroad for my higher studies.
 - My dream country for my further studies is Canada.
 - I would like to work there for the time that I am there.
 - I have heard that students can work part time while studying over there.
 - My friend went to Humber College Canada for his Business Management course.
 - He told me a lot about the education system there.
 - He is working part time in a pizza outlet.
 - He gets 10 Canadian dollars an hour.m a k k a r I E L T S
 - He can work 20 hours per week but he can be flexible with the number of hours he can work per day.
 - So he works 5 hours on Saturday and 5 on Sunday and two hours per day on weekdays. Order Books at www.instamojo.com/makkarielts1
 - In this way his study is not disturbed.
 - He is managing his overhead expenses very nicely.
 - I intend to join him soon.
 - He has promised to help me find a job there.
 - I would like to work in the library.
 - Part time jobs in the library get filled up very fast.
 - If I don't get a job in the library, I would like to work in a restaurant or a fast food outlet.
 - I think it would be a very good way to learn about the culture and to meet new people and make new friends.
 - Canada is a beautiful country.
 - My friend is in Toronto and he has told me that he has visited many places there.
 - He told me about the CN Tower and the Niagara Falls.
 - So, I would definitely like to work in Canada for a short time

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. What kinds of jobs are easy to get in a foreign country?
My cousin who lives in Canada tells me that there are many jobs that are easy to get for students studying there. The most common ones are the jobs in restaurants or fast food outlets like McDonald's, Burger King, Subway, and those in the college campus itself, like jobs in the library, etc.
2. Should young adults work abroad?
Yes, young adults should work abroad because of several reasons like, taking care of their overhead expenses, taking the financial burden off their parents' shoulders, they become more independent and responsible and they gain experience about the work culture, which would help them in their future. It is also a good way to learn about the culture of that country and to meet new people and make friends.
 1. If they don't work abroad, would it be helpful for them to travel in a foreign country? Order Books at www.instamojo.com/makkarielts1
 2. Yes, travelling is definitely helpful. They would come to know about the culture, meet new people, see new places, and make new connections. However, if they don't work, they may not be able to afford travelling.
3. Do Indian parents encourage their children to work abroad?
Yes, Indian parents encourage their children to work abroad. They prepare their children well before they travel abroad, about the situations and hardships they may have to face and the importance of working while studying there, so that they can cover their expenses and also gain work experience.
4. If you had an opportunity to live abroad, which country would you like to settle down in?
If I have an opportunity to live abroad, I would like to settle in a developed country, like Canada, Australia, the USA, etc. I have heard from my friends and relatives living abroad that life there is very comfortable, with better facilities and infrastructure. They also tell me that the standard living is very high there, as compared to India. Also, there are a lot of job opportunities available there.
5. Would you like to live in a developed city with a high salary but with polluted air?
If I am in dire need of money for my family, I would go for it, but otherwise I would avoid it. I would use a face mask to filter the polluted air. I would also avoid taking my family there with me.
6. Would you like to live alone or share a room with others?
This would also depend on my financial condition. If sharing a room would save me money, I would share, otherwise, living alone would give me more privacy and independence.

60. A website which helped you to do something / website you visit often/ use regularly

- Which site is it
 - How did you know about it
 - How it helped
- I surf the internet very often, in fact daily.
 - There are many websites which help us to do many things.
 - Here I would like to talk about a website through which you can find videos to do almost anything
 - It is youtube.com
 - Whenever I have to do something, which I have not done before, I search a video on this site, and believe me ma'am, there are many to choose from
 - My friend sent me a video of 3D origami once, and I was amazed to see the clear instructions.
 - It has helped me in many ways.
 - I have done many school assignments with the help of youtube videos.
 - If I like any channel on youtube, I subscribe to it and then get that channel's updates in my e-mail.
 - Recently, I baked a cake by watching a you tube video.
 - It turned out perfect.
 - It was an eggless chocolate cake.
 - I bought all the ingredients, such as self raising flour, cocoa powder, baking powder, condensed milk, vanilla extract.
 - Once my mother was not at home.
 - I made rice by watching a video.
 - That too turned out perfect.
 - Videos are better than oral or written instructions.
 - So this is the website, which has helped me many times to do something.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Who in your family use the site?
My siblings use this site. Sometimes my father also uses it. (Give your personal answer)
2. Can internet help children in their study?
Yes, definitely. The Internet is an ocean of knowledge. Children can take the help of many educational sites on the net.
3. Will the internet replace the teacher?
I don't think so. The teacher will always be there. The teacher can keep the student focused on study. The Internet cannot do so.
4. Will downloading music or movies for free cause a problem?
Yes, it can cause problems. It can affect the sale of this music and the movies also. But it cannot be stopped. People will always find ways of doing so. This has also made many amateur singers and actors famous overnight.
5. What are the reasons why people use the internet?
People use internet for various purposes like entertainment, to gain information or for online shopping or services like banking etc.
6. Some people say that different age groups have different tastes on the internet content. What do you think?
Yes, interests change according to age. Children like to watch cartoons on internet whereas the younger generation uses it mainly for social networking and shopping. The elderly are using it for finding and sharing information.
7. What influence can (or does) the internet have on children?
Internet has positive as well as negative impact on children. If the internet access is not supervised or appropriate parental controls are not implemented, children can access restricted websites which can have a negative influence on them.
8. What kind of people don't use the internet and what are the disadvantages that those people suffer because they don't use the internet?
Some people who are against technology and have orthodox thinking do not use the internet. But mostly poor people do not have access to internet. These people are not aware about things happening around them and how technology has brought convenience to our life. So they are dependent on others all the time for information.

61. Talk about a situation where you had to be polite, please say:

- Where was it?
 - Who was there with you?
 - What did you do to be more polite?
 - How did you feel about this situation?
- I am normally a very well behaved person and I don't lose my temper easily.
 - But there are some situations in everyone's life when it is very easy to be impolite but still one behaves politely.
 - Here, I'm going to speak about a situation when it was very easy to be angry and rude, but I still behaved politely.
 - It happened in my own house.
 - All my family members were at home with me.
 - I had to control my temper to be more polite.
 - Later on I felt very happy about this situation.
 - It so happened, that I had bought a beautiful pearl necklace for myself.
 - I bought this necklace after saving my pocket money for one whole year.
 - One day my 7 year old cousin came to my house and started fiddling with my jewellery box.
 - I stopped her many times but she wouldn't listen.
 - She took my pearl necklace and broke its string.
 - All the pearls scattered on the floor.
 - I was very angry.
 - I wanted to slap her hard and speak some harsh words to her.
 - But I had read somewhere that if you are really very angry then you should clench your fist and count 10.
 - I did that. And, by the time I had counted 10 my anger vanished.
 - I didn't say anything to my cousin.
 - After all she's only a child.
 - Then I picked all the pearls and got them re-stringed.
 - I know very well that if I had beaten my cousin for breaking my necklace or even spoken some harsh words to her, I would have felt very bad later on.
 - Anger and rudeness lead to nothing.

- So, this was the situation when I behaved politely.

(More ideas – instead of pearl necklace you could talk about a cell phone or a laptop or any other thing).

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions (refer to introductory sets on politeness)

1. Are Indian people becoming much politer or not?

I thinking Indian people are now more polite than before because more and more people are educated nowadays as compared to the past. Schools teach us about politeness and children tell their parents as well to be polite with each other. Also because of newspapers and tv news people have learnt that they should not fight and be polite with each other

2. In what ways do Indian people show politeness?

Indian people show politeness by adding respectful words such as “ji or aap” when they talk to others. Also the tone of their speech is very respectful when they talk to others.

3. What are the uncivilized manners on public transport?

Talking loudly on phone, putting your feet on the seat and keeping luggage in the path are some examples of uncivilized manners on public transport.

4. What would you do when this happens?

I politely tell the person not to do so. Otherwise I just ignore him or her.

5. Should people show politeness to friends?

Yes people should show politeness to friends because it shows that they care for each other. If they are rude to each other than their friendship will suffer in the future.

62. Interesting job you would like to do

- What is it
 - How can you find this job
 - What qualities it requires
 - Explain why it is an interesting job
- Nowadays, globalization has opened doors for many new, unusual and fascinating jobs for us.
 - The job I am going to talk about here is of an event organizer.
 - I came to know about this job after I saw the movie Band Baja Baraat.
 - Later I came to know that such jobs are very popular nowadays even in small places such as my home town Phagwara.
 - People are very busy nowadays and do not have time to organise family functions such as marriage parties and anniversaries.
 - So, they give their budget to the event organiser and he takes over the responsibility.
 - When I came to know that I can get paid for this I was very fascinated.
 - No special training is needed for this job.
 - With every event you organise, you learn something new and your confidence grows.
 - You need to have contacts with various people who do the catering and decorations.
 - You even organise the DJ and the orchestra.
 - The most enjoyable part of this job is that you get to attend all the parties and meet new people.
 - Actually I am very fond of organising such functions.
 - Whenever there is any function in the family, I do all the planning.
 - I note down everything to the smallest detail and then distribute duties to the family members.
 - I remember, once my cousin's marriage was fixed and all the arrangements were to be done within a week.
 - I took over the charge and everything took place perfectly.
 - My parents were also surprised at the way I organised it all.
 - I am sure, I have a future in this job.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Is it hard to find an interesting job in India?

Yes , India already has a high unemployment rate. There are limited jobs available in India, so it is difficult to find job of one's choice.

2. What kinds of preparation should people do for a job interview?

People should prepare thoroughly on the skill they are being interview for, so that they are able to answer all the questions. They should also practice mock interviews with others so that they can answer with confidence during the interview.

3. Why do some people keep changing their jobs?

People keep changing jobs mainly because of 2 reasons. First purpose is monetary, when people switch jobs they get good salary hikes. Secondly it gives them a chance to grow, take new positions and breaks the monotony of previous job

4. What should a good employer do?

A good employer should treat his employees like he treats his customers. In that way the employees will always respect him and do their work diligently.

5. How would you define an interesting job?

An interesting job for me should be something that is challenging and brings the creativity out of a person. Jobs which offer me problems that I can solve and make world a better place are interesting jobs for me.

63. Describe a famous person that you are interested in

You should say:

1. Who this person is
 2. How you know about this person
 3. What sort of life they had before they became famous
 4. How this person became famous
 5. And explain why you like this person
- I would like to meet many famous people but here I am going to talk about India's Prime Minister Narendra Modi.
 - He is the first Prime Minister who was born in Independent India, that is, post 15 August 1947.
 - He is a dynamic and development oriented leader.
 - He represents Varanasi constituency in the Lok Sabha.
 - He has been the Chief Minister of Gujarat for four consecutive terms.
 - The reason why I admire him is that his life shows how an ordinary boy from a deprived (poor) class could reach the highest levels of the nation.
 - It is all because of his hard work and determination.
 - I really appreciate his initiatives like Swachh Bharat Abhayan, Make in India. I believe these programs will help establish India's presence among the developed nations.
 - His other programs such as Mann Ki Baat shows how good he is at governance.
 - He is the kind of leader who practices what he preaches. For example, we have seen him promoting Yoga by celebrating International Yoga Day, but many people don't know that he himself does Yoga every morning.
 - His focus on development, eye for detail and efforts to bring a qualitative difference in the lives of the poorest of the poor have made him a popular and respected leader across.
 - He is a role model for one and all.
 - I would like to meet him and seek his blessings.
 - I would like to get his autograph.
 - Every country needs people like him to take their nation to the top.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Do you think a person who is famous is well liked? Why?

Not necessarily. It depends on why the person has achieved fame. If the famous person is a sportsman or a film star, he is well liked but if the famous person is a terrorist or any other criminal, he is not liked. He is in fact loathed/hated by people.

2. What do you know about celebrities?

Celebrities are the famous people from the world of entertainment, business, sports and politics.

3. Do you think celebrities are different in different countries?

Yes, of course, celebrities are different in different countries. All countries have their own famous people in the world of entertainment, business, sports and politics. However, some celebs are internationally famous. This is because nowadays we belong to an era of globalization. The IT revolution and the satellite TV have made it possible for people to be famous all over the world.

4. Were they different in the past?

They were different in the past because the media in the past was not that pervasive. Only those persons were famous who had really achieved great heights and were in the local and national news. Whereas, today the reality TV has made it possible for even the common man, with some talent, to become famous.

5. What does motivate people to become well known?

Famous people have power and money. This power and money is what motivates people to become well known. We can see today thead companies approach even small children, who become well known through reality TV shows, to endorse their products. So once a person becomes well known, money starts pouring in through many doors.

6. Do you think technology can help people interested in it, to become well known?

Yes, definitely. A person who is well versed with technology can become famous overnight. Who has not heard of the youngest billionaire of the world, Mark Zuckerberg, the founder of Facebook. Some songs and singers also became famous because of you tube videos.

64. Describe a quiet place

You should say:

- Where it is
 - When you like to go there
 - What you do there
 - Why you like to visit there
- It is very difficult to find quiet places in the fast paced life of today.
 - However, I would like to talk about a place where I go quite often and I find great peace there.
 - The place I am referring to is a Sikh temple in my hometown, Gurdwara Sukhchainana Sahib.
 - I go there once a week, sometimes with family and sometimes with friends.
 - Sometimes we walk to the gurdwara, and sometimes we go by car. It is about 3 km from my home.
 - It is away from the main road, so it is very quiet there.
 - Whenever, I go there, I do circumambulation of the holy book inside the main hall, and pay obeisance to the almighty.
 - There is a well-maintained fishpond in the gurdwara, which has many species of fish.
 - I just sit on the steps of the pond and listen to the holy chants going on all the time there.
 - It gives me great peace of mind.
 - Sometimes I take some bread from home and feed the fish.
 - There are two catfish among the other many, who seem to be talking to me.
 - I know it is all my imagination, but I love it over there.
 - I feel that the tempo of life has slowed down a bit.
 - It is so relaxing to watch the movements of the fish in the water.
 - This activity takes away all the physical and mental tiredness away from my body.
 - I feel very light-hearted after that.
 - Even though there is always a great rush in this temple, yet one can find peace and quiet over there.

- Sometimes, I offer voluntary services in the community kitchen over there.
- Free food is offered to one and all in the community kitchen and this service is round the clock.
- I generally go there on weekends and spend a good two hours over there.

Part 3 - Follow Up Questions

1. Why do some people not like quiet places?

Some people do not like quiet places because they want fun and frolic all around them. They want activity and noise all around them.

2. Do you know other quiet places?

There are many quiet places in the countryside. Many of my friends live in villages. Whenever I go to their homes, there is no noise of traffic, and you can hear the chirping of the birds and the rustling of leaves, which is very soothing to the ears.

3. Do you need a quiet place when you are working?

Yes, I do appreciate a quiet place when I'm working, but unfortunately it is not always possible. So I've got used to some amount of noise around me.

4. Why do people like to spend time in quiet places?

People like to spend time in quiet places because sometimes they want to be with themselves, then they go to temples or quiet places, and feel relieved of their stress.

5. Do you know anyone who likes noise?

I have many friends who like listening to loud music. They say that it kills the background noise of the vehicle

Yes, definitely! Story books can be an ideal gift for children. They can help the child imagine the characters in the mind which is the first step to creativity. Another important benefit is that we can impart the knowledge of culture, tradition, moral values and religion in the mind of the child. This forms the basis of the child's personality. Finally, story books enhance the curiosity of the child and enhance their mental growth.

9. What can be done to encourage the habit of reading among children?

A lot can be done to encourage the habit of reading among children. The first and foremost step would be to make books available. There should be good libraries in the schools as well as in neighbourhoods. Story telling competitions could be organised. If children have to take part in these competitions, then naturally, they would be encouraged to read books. Finally, books could be made more interesting by adding graphics.

10. How does reading help a child?

Reading helps to improve concentration. It also helps to improve general knowledge. It also improves the language skills and satisfies the curiosity of children on various things.

11. What sort of books can be suggested to children to read?

Children should be encouraged to read religious and historical books. They should also read biographies and autobiographies of famous people so that they get motivation from them. They should also be encouraged to read books on science and technology. However, these books should be made very interesting by adding pictures. Ma kkar IELTS

49. Foreign language

1. Why do you think it is important to learn a foreign language?

It is important to learn a foreign language because it helps you connect with more people. As it is, today we do not belong to a big planet Earth; we belong to a small global village and to survive in this global village, it is necessary to be multilingual. For example, English is spoken in 86 countries. If you know English you can communicate with people of 86 countries.

2. How is it helpful to you to speak a foreign language?

I know English which is a foreign language. It is very helpful for me. Knowledge of English makes me feel more confident as it increases my communication skills and also it helps me in surfing the net because most websites are written in English.

3. What is the most difficult part of learning a foreign language for you?

I find some pronunciations very confusing at times. For example bough is pronounced 'bo' whereas tough is 'tuff'.

Sometimes the spellings which have silent words also confuse me. For instance 'b' is silent in doubt and debt.

4. What is the best way to memorize new words?

The best way is to start using them in daily life so that they become part of your natural spoken English.

5. Is it better to learn a new word from translation or by definition?

I think both ways are equally good. Sometimes some words are learnt best by translation and some by definition.

6. Why don't some people know the language of the society they live in?

This is perhaps because they live in their own shell and don't intermingle with those people.

7. What do you think of children learning a foreign language?

I think children should learn a foreign language. It is very easy for children to learn a foreign language as they are very receptive and they are not hesitant about making mistakes. They also have a benefit of not knowing any other language too well, to make comparisons and assumptions about the difficulty of language learning. In this era of globalization, knowledge of a foreign language is very beneficial for a better career and a brighter future. It opens more avenues for the students for higher education and good jobs.

8. Why are some language classes boring?

Some language classes are boring because of the teaching methods used. If there are no interactive and fun activities involved in teaching a language and only textbook teaching methods are followed, students become bored easily. Incorporating technology in classrooms, keeps the students interested in learning and they learn it easily. For example, there should be audio-visual means used.

9. Some students hate to learn foreign languages, what can teachers do to develop their interest?

Some students hate to learn a foreign language mainly due to lack of interest and uninteresting teaching methods used. Teachers play an important role in developing students' interest. Interactive and fun activities should be included to keep the children involved and interested in learning. If students are taught only from text books and there is a pressure of examination, it leads to students becoming bored or disliking language classes. Teachers should also use contexts and examples to which the students can relate in their day-to-day life. If they understand how the language can help and benefit them, students would be motivated to learn that language.

10. Some people travel for learning a foreign language, what do you think?

I think that traveling is a very good way to learn a foreign language. It is true that the more we use a language, the better we get at it. So, if travel to a country/region where that language is used, we will interact more with the local people in that language and learn its nuances better. Also, language is related to the culture. If we travel, we learn more about the culture and can learn the language better.

11. What's the best way to learn a foreign language?

I think the best way to learn a foreign language in a classroom environment, from a teacher who has in-depth knowledge of that language. The teacher should preferably be a native speaker of that language or should have a high proficiency level in that language. It is very important to incorporate technology and audio-visual methods to teach that language. Also, travelling to that country/region where the language is spoken is also a good way to learn it. These days learning a language through videos and online classes has become very popular, as the students get a chance to interact with the teachers and also with native speakers of that language, through the internet. There are many apps also available, which can be downloaded on smartphones, which help learning a foreign language in a fun and interactive way. For example, the Duolingo app.

12. Why can some people learn languages fast while others learn slowly?

Some people learn language faster than some others because of the teaching methods used to teach them. Interacting more with the native speakers also helps with learning a language better and faster. Also, there may be a motivating factor, like a job that requires them to learn that language, which makes people learn a language faster than others, who don't have any motivation behind learning a language.

13. Does one's age affect their language learning?

Yes, I think age affects language learning. I think the learning curve goes down with increasing age. Also, at an older age, people try and compare the new language they are learning with the language they already know. That may cause a hindrance in the learning of a language. People also become more hesitant about making mistakes and feel more embarrassed, at a later age, as compared to young learners.

Advantages for children to learn languages – Why it is good to learn languages at younger age

1. When children learn multiple languages at a younger age, they develop a lifelong love of communicating with others.

2. It is much easier to learn foreign language when young. At a later age it becomes harder to become fluent
3. Learning a foreign language helps a child's mind develop. Such children do better in other subjects. It helps their intellect to develop more
4. Learning a foreign language helps children to expand their knowledge of the world. They want to know about other people and other countries. They would want to understand them instead of being afraid of them.

Advantages for the adult learner of a foreign language

He has his own language to compare with the second language. So new terms or concepts are easily understood.

They have a strong motivation to learn a new language especially if it is connected to an employment opportunity.

Most adult learners have participated in study earlier, so they know what method of learning works best for them.

Yes, I do feel that people have less free time today than in the past. Today, people have become workaholics. They run after money and in doing so they work longer hours. Moreover, today we belong to a materialistic society and to buy the luxuries we have to work more. In earlier times, life was slower and the needs of people were limited. So people had a lot of free time.

6. Do you think that the quality of living is increasing? How?

I feel that the quality of life has increased in many ways and in many ways it has gone down. People today enjoy greater comforts and have more money to enjoy life but on the other hand we face many problems today such as pollution and global warming which make the quality of life bad.

7. Today people use machinery to automate everything, is it good or bad?

It is both – good as well as bad. In many ways it is good. We have more time because of machines. We get good quality things because machines make uniform things. We do mass production because of automation and this boosts our economy as we can export things to other countries when we produce them in bulk.

On the other hand, many people have lost jobs because of automation. So, unemployment occurs and this leads to many other problems in society. Machines can also not give a personal touch to things.

8. How does modern technology help to save time?

Modern technology has touched all aspects of life. In transport industry we have much faster means of travel. In communication, technology has given us tools to connect to others at the click of a mouse. In the homes, we have washing machines and microwave ovens, which save our time.

9. Do you agree that people should let machinery do everything?

I do not agree that machines should do everything. In that way we shall become slaves of our own creation. We should know when, where and how much we have to use machines. We should know where to draw the line. When we need mass production, we should take the help of machines. In doing repetitive and boring work we can let the machines take over. But where creativity is needed, we should do with our own hands.

83. RAINY DAYS

1. Does it rain much in India? (Where? When?)

India is a diverse country with different climatic conditions in different regions. So there are some parts of India that receive a lot of rain, like Cherrapunji in Meghalaya, Amboli in Maharashtra, etc. Some places receive a lot of rainfall only during the monsoon season, like Mumbai, Chennai, Goa, etc.

2. Does it rain much in your hometown? (Include how often)

It doesn't rain much in my hometown. It is only during the monsoon season, that is in the months from June to August that we receive some rainfall.

3. In what season does it rain the most? OR When (in what month/season) does it rain most in your hometown?

It rains the most in my hometown in the monsoon season, that is in the months from June to August.

4. What about the other parts of India? OR In which season does it rain most in other parts of India?

India has a varied terrain. In many parts of India, it mostly rains in the monsoon season. However, it also depends on the geographical location as it affects the rainfall in many regions.

5. Would you prefer to have, more rain or less rain (in your hometown)?

I would prefer to have more rain in my hometown. In the last few years, there has been a drastic change in the seasons and the summers get very hot. If there is more rainfall in the summers, there will be respite from the heat.

6. Do you like rainy days? OR How do you feel on rainy days? OR Do you feel sad on rainy days?

I like rainy days in the summer season because the temperatures drop and we get respite from the summer heat. In winters I am not too happy when it rains, as it becomes very cold after it rains.

7. How does rain affect different people's moods? OR How does rain affect people's lives?

I think rains affect people's moods when it restricts their activities or leads to a loss in the work or business. Some people feel happy when it rains as the weather becomes pleasant and people can enjoy hot beverages and fried snacks.

8. Do you prefer rainy days or sunny days?

I prefer rainy days in the summers and sunny days in the winter season. Rains give us respite from the heat in the summers and we can enjoy sitting out in the sun on a cold winter day.

9. What do you do on rainy days (or, on a rainy day)?

I enjoy hot beverages, like coffee and fried snacks like fritters and samosas on rainy days. It gives us an opportunity to stay at home with family and spend quality time with them.

10. What do you usually do when it rains (or, when it starts to rain) and you are outside?

If it rains when I am outside, I usually look for a café or a place where I can sit and enjoy coffee and some snacks.

11. Do you think rain is good? (Why?)

Yes, I think rains are good. Rains are important to maintain the ecosystem's balance. Rains help with maintaining the groundwater levels. They make the dust settle down and help clean the environment. For agriculture-based economies, rains during the rainy season are very important for a good crop.

12. How does rain affect (life in) your country?

Agriculture is a major part of India's economy and that is largely dependent on timely rains. So a lot of farmers depend on a good monsoon season for a good crop. Unseasonal rains can have an adverse affect on agriculture, as it can destroy crops. In places where there is water shortage, people depend on rains and save rain water in reservoirs.

13. Is there any part of India where it doesn't rain much? (Where?) OR Is there an even distribution of rain throughout India?

India is a diverse country with different climates in different parts. There are many parts in the east of India that experience a lot of rain throughout the year. In most parts of India, monsoon season is the time when most of the rainfall happens. In some western parts, like in the deserts of Rajasthan, there is very little rain. Sometimes some states experience droughts because of no rainfall for a very long period of time.

14. What effects can a shortage of rain (a drought) have on people's lives?

Droughts/Shortage of rain can have adverse effects on the livelihoods of many people, especially those who are dependent on agriculture. Sometimes people are forced to leave their hometowns due to water shortage and start afresh somewhere else and face hardships. Many people die each year in India and all over the world because of droughts.

15. Can you remember any time when it rained particularly heavily in your hometown? (When?)

Yes, I remember that during my childhood it used to rain continuously for days and the roads and parks got filled with water. We used to enjoy a lot playing in the rain and in the pools of water. This used to happen during the monsoon season. Now the amount of rainfall has reduced drastically due to climate change.

16. Does rain ever affect transportation in your hometown? (How?)

Yes, sometimes the rain affects the transportation. It is mostly on some roads where the drainage system is not good or when it is blocked. At such times the water logging happens on the roads and the movement of traffic is affected.

17. Do you think the seasons have changed in recent years, compared to the past? (Why? How?)

Yes, I think seasons have changed in the recent years because of global warming and the consequent climate change. The summers last longer and the winters are shorter. Also, the amount of rainfall during the monsoon season has reduced. Sometimes we hardly get any rains during the monsoon season.
